that Convention To Discuss the Financial Question Meets Today.

COMPOSED ENTIRELY OF SILVER MEN

Hardly a Dozen Goldbugs in the Whole Body of Democrats.

BIMETALLISTS ARE IN THE SADDLE

They Are Disposed To Capture the Execu to Committee and Make It Friend-ly To Silver-Gold Men Kick.

Pertle Springs, Mo., August 5.-The admoe guard of the free silver democrats prived here this morning. Hon. R. P. Bland was the central figure of the early arrivals. Mr. Bland says the convention may possibly complete its work and adourn tomorrow night.

It is inferred from this that the important work of the convention is in an advanced state of cut and dried preparation. The silver people feel that they are in control and will try to create a new state ommittee. A compromise has been proosed. Again the silver people argue that no statement of their principles would be emplete without a strong resolution deouncing goldbug democracy, including, ncidentally, the national administration. resolution is already prepared, however, that if passed may satisfy the rabid antidministrationists and at the same time have only the effect of a blank cartridge. At noon this place and Warrensburg, two miles distant, were in a bustle of excitement and special trains were hourly arriving bearing delegates and visitors.

There are one hundred and fourteen cour in Missouri, and it is estimated that each county has sent at least five delegates to the democratic convention. This brings the total number of delegates up to 570. Of these a conservative estimate places those pledged and instructed to vote for silver at a 16 to 1 ratio at nearly 545. So carefully have the silver leaders been guarding their interests that in many cases the county conventions passed resolutions prohibiting proxies. Among the prominent politicians and party wheelhorses who are already on the ground are Governor Stone, Senator Cockrell, Congressmen Bland and DeAr-mont, State Auditor Seybert, Judge James H. Gibson, of Kansas City; Colonel Nicholas M. Bram, of St. Louis; a baker's dozen of state senators, circuit judges and railway lobbyists.

Few Goldbugs on Hand. The few goldbug partisans in attendance, most of whom are members of the state nmittee, were considerably disconcerted onight by the announcement that Chair-man Moffitt, of St. Louis, would not be in attendance owing to the recent death of a rel-ative. Mr. Mamitt's absence will be keenly telt, as he is credited with a magnetic in-fluence over the average rural delegate. In the event of his non-arrival Hon. John H. Carroll, vice chairman and legal counselor of the Burlington road, will call the convento order. A number of caucuses were held tonight with the view of deciding upon aporary organization, but it is hardly probable that any decision will be reached atil after the state committee meets tomor-ow. The consensus of opinion, however, is hat Judge James Gibson, of Kansas City, will be selected as temporary chairman, and that Senator Cockrell or ex-Congressman Hatch will officiate as permanent chairman. The latter office has been offered to Governor Stone, but at a late hour tonight his friends stated that he has positively declined to serve. Hon. Richard P. Bland will, in all probability, be selected chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Outside of the silver resolutions, the greatest fight in the convention will be on the motion to reorganize the state committee. The proposed change is from a representative in each congressional dis ict, as at present constituted, to a state senatorial district representation, increas-ing the membership from fifteen to thirty-

Senator Cockrell will urge a resolution declaring it the sense of the convention that the state central committee be instructed to call early separate nominating conventions in 1896 to select delegates to the national convention and also to nominate candidates for state offices. His purpose in this resolution is to give Missouri's wiews on the financial question early in the

Until they have been consulted all else is problematical. The convention, however, will be one of the bottest ever ed in the state.

At tonight's caucus the state committee decided to ask the convention to double the number of the members of the state committee, thereby adding to it one member from each congressional district. This ac-tion is regarded as an effort to pacify the of the country delegates.

The decision of the caucus was hailed with rejoicing by the silverites and they are now busily engaged in discussing the advisability of accepting the concession.

They are so They are so jubilant over their victory, however, that they now declare that nothing less than the resignation of the state amittee will satisfy them.

Here is the convention demanding a second the convention demanding a second the composed of thirty-four macros. members, one from each senatorial district, and nothing less. A caucus between Governor Stone, Senator Cockrell, Hon. Hon. R. P. Bland and a few close and trurted friends was held at Senator Cockrell's residence tonight. e Silver Resolutions Will Be Adopted-Few Goldbugs There. Jackson, Miss., August 5.—Candidates and Jackson, Miss., August 5.—Candidates and elegates to the state democratic convention, which meets Wednesday, are begining to arrive on every train, and already he limited hotel accommodations are bepoken. It is confidently predicted that his will be the biggest convention ever assembled in Mississippi.

The offices to be filled are governor, lieutropy to be filled are governor.

The offices to be filled are governor, lieunt governor, secretary of state, auditor, surer, attorney general, superintendent ducation, revenue agent, clerk of sufor court, land commissioner, three rail-d commissioners and librarian, the lat-place being always given to a woman, the gubernatorial nomination will go to senator A. J. McLaurin, a free silver man, by default, all opposition candidates having jumped the track, but all other offices will be hotly contested by the score or more candidates after each. Interest here centers in the fight for secretary of state, the most prominent candidate for which is Colonel J. L. Powers, the Nestor of the state press, who, for three weeks, has been desperately sick, and who will not be up on convention day. He is the most prominent Mason and Odd Fellow in the state, having been grand secretary of the former twenty-six years, and the brethren everywhere have railied to his support with great unanimity. He has strong opposition at home from half a dozen candidates for other officer lower down on the list, who other offices lower down on the list, who fear Powers's election means their defeat, it being a rule in Mississippi to distribute offices geographically. The convention, which will probably be in session two days, will adopt free silver resolutions. In fact, it is doubtful if a baker's dozen of the 266 delegates will indorse the administration's policy. tion's policy.

TEXAS SILVER CONVENTION.

Delegates Are Arriving at Fort Worth Ready for Work.

Ready for Work.

Fort Worth, Tex., August 5.—The delegates to the democratic state silver convention which meets here tomorrow are beginning to arrive. About 2,000 delegates have been appointed. The most conspicuous figure in the convention will be ex-Senator Reagan.

Reagan. In a conference this morning the silver leaders agreed that the platform should be confined to the money question; should favor the remonetizing of silver at the present ratio, declare antagonism to the bond issuof the national administration and that the hope of silver lies in the democratic party.

The state bicycle meet opens here tomorrow with a large attendance. There will be notable riding.

The populist state encampment also meets tomorrow. Ex-Governor Waite and Senator Peffer are expected to be here. A sensational letter has been received from Eugene V. Debs, the American Railway Blackburn Continues To Win. Cincinnati, O., August 5.—A special from Marion, Ky., to The Post says Blackburn scored a victory in the democratic primary legislative district composed of Crittenden and Livingston counties Saturday. Nickell, the Blackburn man, defeated Adams, the Buckner man, by 250 majority.

SILVER FOR THE CLERK. But the Foreigner Must Have Gold from the Treasury.

Washington, August 5.-Secretary Morton is a goldbug. Several of his principal assistants at the agricultural department are strong advocates of the free coinage of silver. One of the gentlemen has been spending a moderate vacation in the west. When he returns to Washington tomorrow and calls at the office of the distributing clerk for his salary, it will be handed to him literally in a lump sum. That is to say he will receive $175. It is contained in a canvas bag eight inches long by four inches wide, and it weighed when placed on the scales today, exactly ten pounds.

Secretary Morton is now anxiously awaiting the result. He believes that the official in question will make an awful row about his payment in silver, but the secretary will insist that he cannot consistently object to coin payment in view of his repeated ut-terances in favor of the white metal. The terances in favor of the white metal. The secretary says that arguments having failed to convince his assistant that silver as a circulating medium is not equal to gold, he has had recourse to the method of treatment used by physicians of the homeopathic school, which is expressed in the Latin phrase "similia similibus curanter."

Asked To Demand Gold.

Topeka, Kas., August 5.-The old soldlers of Topeka and Shawnee county, who called for their money at the office of Pension Commissioner Glick today, had the follow-ing circular distributed among them: omrades-Halt! You are entitled to gold in payment of your checks. Demand-it. Do not accept depreciated currency." The pensioners are paid by checks, which are cashed at Topeka banks.

SOUTH AMERICAN RATES.

Steamship Companies Will Probably Reduce Fares to the Exposition. New York, August 5 .- (Special.)-Colonel

W. Avery, the foreign commissioner of the Cotton States and International exposition, obtained today from Boulton, Bliss & Dallett, the managers of the Red D line of steamships to Venezuelan ports, the promise to reopen their decision not to give reduced passenger rates to visitors from that country to the Atlanta exposition, and they now think of giving special rates to parties. The firm gave reduced rates to commissioners and exhibitors and passage free to the government exhibits with reduced freight on individual exhibits. but had declined concessions to individual visitors. 'The New York commission and the railroads between New York and Atlanta ar vigorously backing the effort to encourage a large South American attendance at the exposition. The manager of the Spanish steamship line of J. M. Ceballos & Co., running to the West Indies and Venezuela has recommended to his home company that it advance the important object of the exposition. Many visitors desire to come from those countries and reduced rates will bring them. Colonel Avery leaves for home tonight, but will stop at Baltimore and Washington.

KILLED BY HIS WIFE

Strong Circumstantial Evidence Against Mrs. Carson and Her Friend Green.

THE LATTER HELD CARSON'S HEAD Seizing a Razor the Woman Cut Her

A Mob of Lynchers Expected To Visit the Spartanburg Jail - The Woman Keeps Up Her Nerve.

Spartanburg, S. C., August 5.-(Special.)-At the preliminary trial today of Ed Green and Mrs. Fannie Carson, charged with murdering J. O. Carson, the woman's husband, Bud Poole swore that Green came to his brother's house and invited him to Green's house to spend the night. Green finally went out, saying that he would return in a few minutes. At the expiration of three hours he came back. His hands were bloody and he was very much excited. Green said to Poole: "Me and Fannie have killed him," and offered Poole $100 to swear that they had spent the night to-gether, neither leaving the house. Poole refused the offer and repeated his testimony on the stand. This evidence fixed the crime which the conspirators had attempted to palm off as a suicide. The particulars of the story were soon learned. It seems that Green, who is a popular young man in the community, twenty-six years old and unmarried, has been intimate with Mrs. Carson for about a year, and the two had been planning several months to get the husband out of the way. They attempted on two occasions to poison him with strychnine without success. They finally decided to cut his throat.

Mrs. Carson admitted Green into the house on the night of the murder. After her husband had gone to sleep, she stunned him with a hammer, Green rushed up, caught his head and held it back while the wife savagely cut his throat with a razor with which Green had already supplied her. The head of the victim was almost severed from the body. When things were fixed as well as possible the woman cleaned the blood from her clothing and, catching her child in her arms, rushed over to a neighbor's telling them that her husband was killing himself. This story was be lieved at first and the true facts would never have come out had not the physician summoned by the coroner discovered pieces of a broken razor in the wound while Carson's razor lay by his side bloody but intact, having been used after Green's had broken. A juror then discovered that there were bloody tracks about the house and that Carson's feet had no blood upor jury was arrested, he was on his way from Melrose, N. C., a little town just across the state line, where he had purchased a razor which duplicated the one used in the murder hoping that its possession would divert suspicion from him. The bloody garments worn by him were found con-cealed in his house. The clothing worn by Mrs. Carson has not yet been found. There is intense excitement in the little factory town of Fingerville, where the preliminary examination was held today. There was strong talk of lynching the principals as soon as the investigation was over. Green was hurried off to jail before a concerted taken there later. A military company may be ordered out before morning to guard the jail. A lynching party from that section is expected in the city. Mrs. Carson is decidedly pretty. She continues to keep up a brave front denying all complicity in cludes as follows: the crime, though showing an evident in clination to shove the blame for the crime

STATEMENT OF A JUROR Who Investigated the Killing of Ernest Green by Miss Flagler.

Washington, August 5 .- General and Mrs D. W. Flagler, parents of Miss Elizabeth Flagler, who shot and killed Ernest Green last week, returned home this afternoon General Flagler did not report at the war department, as he is still on leave, and his movements are not certainly known. It is supposed that he will take his daughter away with him for a time.

Renewed interest in the unfortunat shooting affair was aroused this afternoon by the publication of a card from George J. M. Dorsey, a member of the coroner jury; charging that the verdict agreed upon was changed at the suggestion of the signed and given to the court crier, Mr. Dorsey says:

its verdict that verdict was concluded with the sentence: 'We do think that the shots were fired carelessly and indifferently.' I believed that the wording was sufficient to carry the case to the grand jury, otherwise I should not have signed it. Coroner Hammell and Assistant Attorney Jeffords came into the jury rcom, Mr. Ross Perry, counsel for the defendant, entered Perry, counsel for the defendant, entered in company with Miss Flagler, and then the crowd came crowding in. Mr. Perry heard what was said and remarked to Coroner Hammett that something should be added to the verdict. Mr. Perry then reached over and, picking up the paper on which the verdict was written, and already signed by all the jurors, handed it to Mr. Hammett and suggested that these words be added: 'And from the evidence, we cannot hold the prisoner.' Mr. Hammett then wrote these words before the signa-tures and turning to the jury, said: 'Gen-tlemen, is this satisfactory' Four of the jurors nodded in the affirmative, but myself and one other member of the jury remain ed silent and gave no indication of our opinion.

"I was, when on the jury, and still am firmly of the belief that Miss Flagle should be brought before the grand jury and that that body should consider the evidence and decide whether Miss Flagle. should be prosecuted. I wish to say fur-ther that Coroner Hammett assured me that all the facts connected with the case would be brought to the grand jury. My in-tention in holding out was, and still is, to disagree with any verdict that would set Miss Flagler without the jurisdiction of the grand jury."

WITHESSED THE MASSACRE. Mr. Phillips Says the Soldiers Could Could Have Prevented It.

London, August 5.-The Daily Telegraph will print tomorrow a dispatch from Shanghai saying that the Rev. H. S. Phillips, of the English Church Missionary Society, witnessed the atrocities at Whasang, but was powerless to do anything to prevent them. The Chinese magistrate, the dispatch also says, waited until the foreigners were murdered or had fled before he appeared. The rioters, who numbered fifty, were led by a man carrying a red flag. It seems that the massacre was carefully planned. There are about 1,000 soldiers stationed at Kuchang and they could have stopped the riot had the officials chosen to order them to do so.

The same dispatch states that the Amer ican mission at Shasi, near Han-Kow, on the Yang-tse-Kiang river, has been destroyed and its former occupants are fugitives. The American consul here has advised the missionaries in other parts of the country to retire.

A meeting of foreign residents of Shang hai of all nationalities was held this afternoon under the auspices of the China Association. Foreigners were urged to appeal direct to the governments of their va. rious countries to secure reparation for the many outrages committed in the Chinese empire, especially for that at Whaclared that no confidence was to be placed in the diplomatic representatives at Pe king. The American residents desire the appointment of a commission to inquir into the outrages at Szchechuen and other inland provinces, apart from the British commission, to be under the control of the American consul, and the British consul has given his assent to the proposition The existing commission is composed of British Consul Tratman, of Chung-King; one missionary, the native prefect at Chengtu, the provincial treasurer and the provincial judge. All of the latter are re-garded as having been implicated in the attacks upon foreigners.

CHINESE BURNED THE HOUSES And Killed the Missionaries While

They Were Trying To Escape. London, August 5 .- The Globe publishes dispatch from Hong Kong, saying that the massacre at Whasang, near Kucheng, com menced early Thursday. The mob set fire to the houses of the missionaries and killed eight women, one child and the husband of one of the women. Several Christians were wounded, two probably fatally. The bodies of those who were killed are expected to arrive at Foochow tomorrow. Chinese troops have been dispatched to the scene.

The British and American consuls will interview the viceroy of the province in regard to the outrage. All foreigners who were idlied were British; the Americans all escaped. The members of the attacking par-ty belonged to the Chinese sect.

CLUB SALOONS MUST CLOSE SUNDAYS. Decision of Judge Motse in a Test

Case. New Orleans, August 5.—Judge Moise handed down an elaborate opinion today in the social club case, in which the conclusion is reached that places of this character. are amenable to the provisions of the Sun day law. The opinion was rendered in re-sponse to a demurrer filed for the presidents of the social clubs of this city, several weeks ago, in order that the amenia-lility of the social clubs to the provisions or the Sunday law should be settled at once and forever. The president of one of the most prominent clubs had been twice indicted for permitting the sale of liquor

"If club saloons were permitted to sell liquor on Sundays New Orleans would soon contain more social clubs than any city contain more social clubs than any city on earth. This would be an easy, available and effective way of evading the law and would rather encourage than suppress the evils intended to be corrected, nor would it be of any practical use to urge upon the court the distinction between a bona fide social clubs and one organized as a device to defeat the law. It is sufficient that the to defeat the law. It is sufficient that the door for such evasion would have been opened and taking judicial cognizane of the nistory of the enforcement of the law in this city, I will hazard the assertion that such devices would be successful. The demurrer is over-ruled and the defend-ant ordered to plead."

DASHED DOWN THE RIDGE.

A Horse Rups Away and Injures Two

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 5.—(Special.) The spectacle of a wild horse dashing mad-ly down precipitous Mission ridge road, near Suburba, dragging a slender, bound-ing phaeton in which were seated two women, with fear-stricken faces, greeted the horrified eyes of H. T. Olmsted and others in that vicinity yesterday afternoon. Powerless to stop the animal in its mad career, they saw it dash on into the fence sur wunding Dr. T. H. McCallie's residence where the vehicle was smashed to smith ereens. The horse turned a somersault In the general wreck Mrs. T. A. Spink had a leg and an arm broken and was other-wise so badly injured that she may die. At the beginning of the drive the party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spink, who live at Ridgedale, and their guest, Miss Quigley, of Alton, Ill. The horse became frightened at the top of the ridge. Mr. Spink was not in the phaeton at the time, so it is understood, and the two dadies were utterly helpless. They clung to the seat, however, for some distance, when Miss Quigley was seen to throw up her hands and jump. Miss Quigley will live, but Mrs. Spink will probably die.

WORKING AT ADVANCED WAGES. Mills at Providence, R. I., Working

Under the New Arrangements.
Providen.e, R. I., August 5.—The volunts ry advance promised by the Woolen Manu-facturers' Club, composed of the Providence National, Suanac and Manton mills, at Ol-National, Suanac and Manton mills, at Ol-neyville, and the Farwell mills, at Central Falls, the scene of the recent great strike, went into effect on light goods today. The advance on the weaving schedule is about 7½ per cent, although the fate varies in different mills, due to the fact that on low pick work the rate must be proportionately better to enable weavers to get fair wages. This difference is in all the wearing sched-ules.

Washington, August 5.—The new Port Royal, S. C., dry dock, the largest in the United States, is now ready for use and will be tested on the list instant with the monitor Amphitrite. A board consisting of Captain Wiles, Naval Constructor Hanseom and Chvil Engineer Asserson will conduct the test. The vessel will enter the dock three times, the gates will be reversed and the condition of the structure carefully noted after each entrance.

Fatal Shots.

FATHER AND SON ARE THE VICTIMS Neither One Had Much of a Chance To Fight-Proprietors of a Kentucky Hotel.

Lexington, Ky., August 5.-The most desperate and tragic duel that has ever taken place in the blue grass region since the famous fight in which Goodloe and Swope killed each other, occurred in Woodford hotel, at Versailles, this afternoon, when William Newton Lane, of this city, shot and instantly killed James Rodenbaugh and mortally wounded the young man's father, H. C. Rodenbaugh, proprietor of the hotel. Lane was drunk at Lexington Saturday night, and yesterday morning, it is said, had a wordy war with a hotel clerk because the clerk would not give him another drink. Lane went to Versailles this morning and on arriving there continued drinking. About noon he went to the Woodford hotel and was given a room and slept until about 4 o'clock this afternoon, A few minutes after that hour he came down stairs and me James Rodenbaugh in the hall and asked the young man the amount of his bill. Upon receiving an answer Lane began to abuse Rodenbaugh, who is a cripple.

Their words soon led to blows and both men drew their pistols about the same time. Lane's first shot struck Rodenbaugh in the neck, just above the collar bone, and lodged just under the skin in the back of his neck. Almost at the same instant that Lane fired, Rodenbaugh's pistol was discharged, the bullet producing a flesh wound in Lane's left side. The blood gushed from Rodenbaugh's throat and giving a few gasps, he fell back a corpse.

Just as he fell his father opened the door and as he did so, the slayer of the son turned upon the father and fired, the ball striking him in the mouth and lodging in the back part of his head. He reeled and when in the act of falling Lane fired again, the second bullet lodging in the old man's spine. He dropped to the floor, and lay by the side of his son. Casting a glance at his victims, Lane walked out of the hotel only to be arrested at the door yy an officer and placed in fail. When physicians arrived they found the young man dead and his father in such a serious condition that his death is expected at any hour. H. C. Rodenbaugh was a first liesten at in the Ninth Kentucky cavalry, and was a gallant soldier. TRAGEDY AT FRANKFORT. Richard Suter Kills Harry Kelley in TRAGEDY ON A CHURCH GROUND. O'Neal Brothers Killed by Their Ene mies, the Picous.

New Orleans, August 5.-A deplorable tragedy occurred Saturday night at Antioch church, about fifteen miles from Baton Rouge. For some time bad feeling has existed between Hill Picou and Albert o'Neal, of that neighborhood, and social gatherings which they have attended have been disturbed by their demonstrations of ill feeling. It is said a young lady is the cause of the bad blood. A few days ago they attended a party at a neighbor's house and had a violent quarrel. Saturday night Albert O'Neal and his brother, Henry, at-tended church at Antioch, where a pro-tracted meeting is being held. Hill Picou and his brother, Wallace, also went there. It was generally expected that a meeting would result in a shooting affray, and all the parties named went to church heavily armed, the Picou brothers taking their shotguns. During the service the O'Neal brothers left the church. As they reached shotguns. During the service the O'Neal brothers left the church. As they reached the open air they met the Picous. Almost instantly there was a sound of three shots and the O'Neal brothers fell dead. Albert O'Neal's whole forehead was shot away with a load of buckshot. Henry O'Neal was shot in the mouth and in the abdomen. His pistol had been drawn, but not fired, as it was found by his side. Albert O'Neal's pistol was found in its scabbard. He had been killed before he could draw it. The Picous and a friend of theirs have been arrested, charged with the killing.

been arrested, charged with the killing, and were put in jail. All the parties concerned are about twenty-five years of age. They have large and respectable family connections and more trouble is expected. The result of the coroner's inquest has not been learned.

Word of another killing several miles from Baton Rouge has been received. Sunday afternoon William McGrew and Gus Weaver, two young men, were riding horseback with a mutual friend. In some way an old feud came up. Both drew their guns and about seven shots were exchanged. Weaver fell dead from his horse with four bullets in him. McGrew was hit in the arm and the side, and rode away bleeding profusely. It is thought he is fa-

FIGHT BETWEEN FARMERS.

One Goes Twe Miles, Gets a Pistol and Shoots His Adversary . Norfolk, Va., August 5.—George Hale and Ben Brock, two farmers who reside in Princess Anne county, near Virginia Beach, got into an altercation Saturday night at Jones's store, a half mile from the beach.

Brock was smacked in the face and knocked down. He left, saying he would have revenge. Securing a buggy, he drove to Ocean Avenue, two miles away, got a pistol, returned and shot Hale twice and then crushed his skull with a heavy stool, Hale was brought to Norfolk and token to Si was brought to Norfolk and taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where he died this morning. The dead man leaves a wife and several children. There is intense feeling in the vicinity of the tragedy against Brock.

CHARGED WITH TRAIN ROBBERY.

A Well-To-Do Farmer in Indian Territory Under Arrest.

Washington, I. T., August 5.—Another link in the famous train robbery of last year has been uncovered. Sunday one James Dyer, a well-to-do farmer and stockman living on the Verdigris river near Wagoner, was arrested by Deputy United States Mar-shal William Smith, charged with implica-tion in the Blackstone robbery last win-ter, and taken to Fort Smith. This morning Tom Root, one of the foremost of the gang, turned state's evidence and implicated Dyer and several others whose names were not given, but are said to be several well-known citizens of this community, and one or two United States deputy marsnals. There were eleven in the gang and Tom Root's confes-sion will lead up to the arrest of the whole gang within a short time. Deputy United States Marshal Smith has been sileptly working on this case for three months, and as success is sure to crown his efforts, he will be entitled to the full reward-

ASKING ABOUT A BOX

Quinlan Shipped from Chicago to

Tilton, N. H.

Chicago, August 5.—Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, has rendered the Chicago police material assistance on the Holmes case. He has written to Chief Badenoch requesting him to get from Quinlan some information about a heavy wooden box four and a half feet long, two and a half feet wide and one and a half feet deep, shipped by Quinlan to Holmes from Chicago to Tilton, N. H., in November, 1894. Geyer wants to know the contents of the box and suspects it contained the remains box and suspects it contained the remains of some of Holmes's victims. The police are at work on information given them by Quinlan and his wife last Friday, but anquintan and his wife last Friday, but announced today that they had nothing to give for publication. The work of digging at the castle has practically been abandoned. Men spent the morning leveling the dirt in the basement. ALL HADLY PROZEN.

A Party Attemptifik To Reach the Summit of Mount Tucoma.

San Francisco, August 5.—A special from Tacoma, Wash., says that homing pigeons which had been sent out with mountain climbers returned home yesterday with messages stating that Fred R. Cowden, H. F. Fires, E. A. Linein, William Love, Walter M. Bosworth and Fred Evans, nearly all experienced mountain climbers, had been badly frozen in attempting to reach the summit of Mount Tacoma. The mes-sages state that the wind is blowing a gale. The pigeons were released at the height of 12,000 feet, at a point known as the "Camp of the Clouds." Love is reported incapacitated, but Bosworth, who has incapacitated, but Bosworth, who has climbed to the summit repeatedly, had, at the hour the messages were attached to the birds, 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, persisted in crawling to the top in order that Linein, a local photographer, might make photographs of the crater for the purpose of comparing them with others taken last season in order to see if any changes have taken place in the summit changes have taken place in the summit as a result of the reported eruptions.

Anniston Got the Contract.

Washington, August 5.—It is learned it this city that in addition to the shipment from Youngstown, O., of 1,000 tons of wash metal to England and the recent large shipment from Pittsburg of 400 tons of pig fron, a contract for the water pipes for the city of Tokio, Japan, was recently let to contractors in this country. England, Germany, Belgium and other European nations were also bidders, but a manufactory at Anniston. Ala., was the lowest bidder and secured the contract and the water pipes are shipped to Tokio, Japan, via Liyerpool.

HE STOOD BEFORE A MIRROR

After Drawing the Blade Across His Throat Re Sat Down To Die-He Was in Bad Health,

Newnan, Ga., August 5 .- (Special.)-At 1 o'clock this afternoon Cosby E. Smith, for many years a prominent and well-known citizen of Newnan, committed suicide at boarding house of his sister, Mrs. J S. Nall, by cutting his throat with a razor Smith had been in Florida for six or eight months, but returned to Newnan at 9 c'clock this morning and proceeded at once to the home of his sister, where he was gladly welcomed by the members of the fan.ily. He had contracted malaria while in Florida. He had been sick four or five weeks with fever and ague, but seemed In good spirits considering his debilitated

After conversing pleasantly with his sister for perhaps half an hour, ne expressed a desire to lie down and was shown to a bed in one of the upper rooms of the house. Shortly after retiring to his room he had a chill and a physician was summoned, who prescribed for him and left him resting quietly. Different members of the family visited his room during the forenoon and ministered to his wants. He talked pleasantly to them, there being nothing in his manner to indicate that he contemplated suicide.

About 1 o'clock his sister again visited his room and was horrified at the sight which met her gaze.

Prone upon the floor with a gash in his throat, from which the blood was yet pouring in a steady stream, her brother lay struggling in the last throes of death. An open razor on the bureau was convincing evidence of the part that it had played in the tragedy. The position of the body and all the circumstances go to show that the unfortunate man stood before the mirror and deliberately cut his throat, after which he laid the reeking blade on the bureau and then sat down to await the coming of death. He made no outery and was so quiet in his movements that his brotherin-law, who was sitting in the hall just outside the door, did not suspect anything wrong until the discovery was made by Mrs. Nall. The right jugular vein was

The deceased was at one time employed in the revenue service and had also been engaged in the distillery business in Newnan and at Macon. He belonged to a prominent family, being the eldest son of the late Stephen D. Smith, of this city. He was forty-four years of age and unmar-ried. The motive assigned for the deed is ill health and financial difficulties.

UNDER MOR LAW. Danger of a Renewal of the Confilet

Danger of a Renewal of the Confilet at Spring Valley.

Ladd, Ill., August 5.—The foreigners at Spring Valley, under the leadership of the Italians, and the negroes who have concentrated their forces at Seatonville, are practically under mob law and a deadly conflict is soon anticipated. The English speaking miners at Spring Valley, to the number of 2,000, held a mass meeting at the lumber yard, near the Rock Island depot, at 10 o'clock this morning and passed resolutions that no negro women or invalids would be allowed to remain inside the city limits after 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Speeches of the most inflammatory in opening up of hostilities. The negroes at Seatonville, on the other hand, held a meeting at the Union church at 11 o'clock this morning and organized themselves for service. Bureau county has 300 repeating winchester rifles stored in her courthouse at Princeton for the protection of the citizens, and an effort will be made to secure these. Should this fail, the men will arm themselves with shotguns or rifles and small arms, and make an effort to regain their homes and household goods at Spring Valley. They also adopted a resolution that they will continue to work in the Spring Valley mines until discharged by the coal company. As the police and sheriff are making no effort to arrest the rioters, the spirit of lawlessness is on the in-

In addition to the negroes reported inare missing as follows: Washington Anderson, aged forty-seven years; Arch Fleming, aged thirty-five years; Sam Johnson, aged thirty years, and Lewis Martin, aged thirty-five years. Of these it is the opinion tharty-nye years. Of these it is the opinion that two at least are lying dead in the woods currounding the late negro colony, as the seeing of two prostrate bodies has been reported by farmers.

Turned Them Back. The immense whistles at the various coal shafts were blown last night and this morning, giving the signal that work would be done in the mines today and large numbers of miners turned out with their dinner pails, but were confronted on the highways leading to the shafts by Italians armed with rifles and the various small arms used in the riots yesterday. At the secret meeting of the Italians held at midnight last night the plan of stopping the men from working was arranged.

Over 2,000 miners assembled at the lumber yard today at 10 o'clock and the situation was freely discussed, nearly all of the speeches being in a foreign tongue. The coal company was roundly denounced and much inflammatory language was used. One speaker said if the murdered Italian was a relative of his he would not stop with the negroes, but would settle it more effective-ly with Manager Dalzell, of the coal company, whom, he said, deserved all the blame, as he had brought the negroes here.

After an hour of general discussion a resolution was adopted giving the remnant the negroes left until 5 o'clock tomorrow morning in which to leave the city and to carry off their effects. Any effects left after that time would be declared confiscated and destroyed. A committee was appointed to organize the Italians and see that the instructions were carried out. Another committee of five was appointed to wait upon Manager Dalzell to demand that he discharge all negroes and agree to employ no new ones for the present.

The committee immediately called at Dalzell's office and stated their griev-ances. Mr. Dalzell in reply said that he had nothing to say on the subject, and that it was a matter he would not discuss. The committee got no assurances. During the remainder of the day the streets were crowded with men discussing the situation. Another meeting of the miners is called or a late hour tonight, at which time it is the genereral impression the strike will be ordered to continue until such time as the demands made are granted.

The situation is, indeed, serious, and much s feared from those who have already indulged in rioting without molestation or white, shall return to work until the coal company agrees to discharge every colored man in its employ and also to hire no new men of either race until all idle men of Spring Valley shall be given employment.

The negroes now propose to return to their homes and continue in their employment in the mines of the coal company The Spring Valley Coal Company sent its treasurer to Seatonville late this afternoon and paid the negroes what was due them up to last Wednesday. The amount due since that time will be paid within a few days.

His "Bike" Saved Him. ent today was frustrated only by the latter jumping on a bicycle and riding away. The mob of about 200 men was composed almost wholly of the men who vere engaged in yesterday's riots and were aggrieved because it had been published that none of the guilty parties had been

The county officials at Princeton when seen tonight did not know what steps, if any, would be taken to bring the guilty parties in Spring Valley to justice. Sheriff Clark said he was discouraged in the mat-ter, as not one man was ever convicted in the courts who was arrested a year ago for looting the stores at Spring Valley and Ladd. They were either let off or lack of evidence or technicalities of the court. State's Attorney Johnson said he world not make the complaints. He had pe sonally conducted the cases last year to no effect and did not care to go through same experience again. The citizens the same experience again. The citizens of Spring Valley are in such a state of intimidation that a criminal prosecution requiring local witnesses is no avail.

At the negro settiement at No. 3 shaft pandemonium regned all night. Crowds of foreigners floated about the streets at all hours discharging firearms of various kinds and throwing rocks against the cottages of the negroes. This was evidently done for the purpose of terrorizing the negroes and in this it was successful.

Whitecap Notices in a Texas County Causes the Blacks To Flee.

Paris, Tex., August 5.—News reached here of a bad state of affairs prevailing in Delta county, which adjoins this, Lamar county, on the south. One night last week every negro was notified that he must leave the county at once or he would be taken out and hanged. Notices were posted informing white men who undertook to protect them that they would neet with the saine fate. This caused a perfect stampede among the negroes, who began to stampede among the negroes, who began to move out of the county at once, although the citizens offered them every protection. In a radius of five miles 2,000 acres of land, In a radius of five miles 2,000 acres of land, crops and all were abandoned and contracts for another year abruptly canceled. NO SOLDIERS TO AID A BESIEGED TOWN

The Insurgents Keep the Regulars Hun gry-A Party of Filibusters Land on the Island.

Madrid, August 5.-Official dispatches from Cuba state that the government troops have defeated near Matanzas a band of insurgents from Las Villas. It was added that Jose Maceo's band had been de feated near Santiago and that several of the insurgents were killed. No details of the fighting are given.

The Attack on Sabana. Santiago de Cuba, July 26th, via Key West, Fla., August 5 .- On the 22d instant party of 800 rebels, under Leaders Ruen and Galano, appeared in Sabana, the most mportant and flourishing town in the diserict of Baracoa, and set fire to the place, causing great alarm and considerable loss. The small garrison strongly fortified themselves, but there are fears that they will have to surrender.

ALLEN'S BOND FIXED.

A Newspaper Clipping Sent to Gov ernor Oates To Ascertain Its Truth. Buffalo, N. Y., August 5.—Attorney Hugh O. Pentacost appeared before Judge Seaver this morning and asked that his client, George Allen, alias John W. McDonald, Emery's partner in the Cottle abduction, be admitted to bail. Judge Seaver granted the request and fixed the amount of the bond at $10,000. Mr. Pentacost is endeavoring to secure the necessary bondsmen. Emery, the principal in the abduction, is known to have been in Hamilton, Ont., on Friday last, having sent some telegrams from there, but all efforts of the police to capture him have been unsuccessful. Mr. Pentacost this morning mailed to Governor Oates, of Alabama, from a local paper in which Cottle's attorney states that he is to receive $3,000 for securing the pardon of Emery on the ground that "Mr. Oates could do more with the president than anybody else," and that Cottle now holds this money conditionally in trust for the governor, with an inquiry as to whether the governor wishes thes statements to go on record.

If they are true, Mr. Pentacost adds, he will advise his client to authorize Cottle to pay over whatever money is owing to Governor Oates.

Governor Oates's Statement. Montgomery, Ala., August 5.—Governor Oates as seen tonight in reference to the Pentacost-Cottle-Emery matter. He states that he does not know Pentacost, Emery or anybody else concerned, except Cottle, who was Emery's attorney. While a member of congress Governor Oates, at the in stance of some relatives of Emery, who represented themselves as Alabamians filed some papers to secure Emery's pardo on the ground that he was mentally un-sound. For this be made no charge. Last January, since he became governor, in Washington and Cottle came as Emery's attorney and secured the gov ernor's assistance in preparing a brief, for which he received $200. This he regards as entirely legitimate. The story about his influence with the president for a fee of $3,000 the governor prono solutely without foundation.

DEFENDER WINS AGAIN. Final Run of the New York Yach Club.

Newport, R. I., August 5.—In the final run of the cruise of the New York Yacht Club, a thirty-seven-mile beat to wind-ward from Vineyard Haven to Newport, the Defender started last and finished first. The new aluminium and bronze boat bea the Vigilant nine minutes and nine se improvement upon the five minutes and thirty-two seconds which the Defender had to her credit over the Vigilant on the run to Vineyard Haven Saturday. When the boats are measured and the time allowance calculated it will undoubtedly found that the Defender wins today in the beating to windward, even if she loses the Saturday's race by a small margin.

The wind today was what might be called a Defender breeze. It was never less than ten knots, nor more than twelve less than ten knots, nor more than tweive and there was a smooth sea, just the weather the new boat is at her best in General Paine's Jubilee raced with working topsail aloft, while the other big sloops may have been responsible for this, but the Boston boat was plainly no match for her competitors. One of the best opportunities that have yet been afforded for testing the windward qualities of the De-fender was provided at the beginning of today's race. The Vigiliant obtained the best position at the start and was to wind ward of the syndicate boat. Captain Haff did not like taking the wind after it had left Vigilant's sails and made a couple of short tacks to get away from under the of Mr. Gould's boat. Captain Bas tried to keep between Defender and the wind and went about whenever the De-fender did, refusing to allow the new boat to split tacks with him. The Defender was quicker in stays and got a little the better of the short tacks, but Captain Haff, finding his antagonist could not be shaken off that way, held his course for seven miles, I kewise outfooting the Vigi-lant by a good half-mile in that distance and easily crossed her bow to windward. From that time on the race was a proces sion with the Defender, as usual, passing all the big schooners and Little sloops which were started ahead of her and leading the fleet into harbor.

TO SETTLE DIFFERENCES.

Representatives of Transportation Lines Will Meet Today.

Baltimore, August 6.-A conference will be held at Hotel Waldorf, New York city, tomorrow, by representatives of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company, of Baltimore; the Ocean Steamship Company, of Savannah; the Pennsylvania ratiroad, the Atlantic Coast Line, and proba bly the Seaboard Air-Line. The m will be the result of overtures made for settlement of the strained relations betwee the Merchants and Miners' Company and the Ocean Steamship Company. The breach between these two companies is said to have been the outcome of a move on the part of the Merchants and Miners' line to secure freight in Philadelphia destined for Savan nah and other places in the south. The Ocean Steamship Company objected to this competition and put agents in Baltimore to solicit southern business. This traffic was sent to Philadelphia on the Baltimore and Ohio, Baltimore and Phalidelphia's line, thence southward on the Ocean line. The Merchants and Miners' Company responded by planning an invasion of the Ocean company's New York territory with a big reduc-tion in rates, taking business over the Pennsylvania railroad to Norfolk and there connecting with steamer from Baltimore.

Overtures were made for an amicable settlement, and pending these a temporary peace was arranged between the rival companies. The Merchants and Miners' Company takes the ground that Philadelphia is the natural territory for its operations and that the sending of freight from Baltimore by way of Philadelphia and the Ocean line was a round about and unnatural route. It, therefore, asks the withdrawal of the Ocean company from the Baltimore territory. onnecting with steamer from Baltimore.

Alabama Negroes Are Getting Ready To Move to Lbieria.

Birmingham, Ala., August 5,—(Special.)— Notwithstanding the stories of the horrible conditions being sent out all over the coun-Africa, under the auspices of a migration concern of this city, more negroes are getting ready to leave in September for the same place. An employe of the migration society in conversation with a newspaper man during the week said that there were more than ever ready to go over in the next colony. He said that the negroes could not be made to believe all these stories going around, and that all of them who had gone into the society some months ago were keeping up the assessments right along. He stated that there would be a large number from Florida and Georgia to go this time. The stories now being scattered all over the country are being translated by the negroes as fairy tales told to keep them out of the "land of milk and honey." In the Dramatic Business.

ANOTHER REORGANIZATION CASE Argued in the United States Court at Richmond

Richmond, Va., August 5.-Another Carolina registration case, that of Joseph H. Gowdy against W. Briggs Green, was argued in the United States circuit court here this afternoon before Judge Gor. Gowdy is a negro voter and Green a supervisor of registration at Columbia, S. C. The complaint is a general one against the registration laws of South Carolina, and the grounds set forth are that the enactments of the South Carolina legislature in this respect are in contravention of the constitution of the United States. The defendant's counsel, Attorney General Barber and General E. McCrary, of Charleston, argued that this court did not have jurisdiction and the case should have gone to the United States circuit court of the eastern district of South Carclina. Judge Goff will announce his decision at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

That a Scheme Is on Foot To Restore the Hawaiian Monarchy.

Chicago, August 5.—Arthur Wilder, a young native Hawaiian, who enjoyed the confidence of President Dole during the life young native Hawaiian, who enjoyed the cendidence of President Dole during the life of the provisional government of the island, does not think there is anything in the story published by a San Francisco paper that a scheme had been hatched for for the restoration of Queen Lil to the throne. "Our government is strong enough, to wipe out any party of exlies or others," said Mr. Wilder. "I heard a great deal of talk in San Francisco about filibustering expeditions, but nobody in Hawaii is alarmed. In San Francisco I saw Volney Ashford, who is the reported leader of the exlies. According to these men in San Francisco, they are relying upon England for help, as most of them have sent their claims for damages to the British government. A revenue boat is cruising around Honolulu all the time for the purpose of keeping out these exiles."

Macon, Ga., August 5 .- (Special.)-The city of Macon and county of Bibb will be well represented at the semi-annual convention of the Georgia State Agricultura Society which meets at Cumberland August 13th, 14th and 15th. There are over twenty life members of the society in Bibb county, also other members. The name of Colonel R. E. Park is favorably mentioned as the successor of President J. O. Waddell, who, it is understood, declines reelection. Colonel Park has for a long tim been a popular and efficient member of the society, but it is not known whether or not he would accept the presidency, as he has large business interests which demand much of his time. Colonel Park will make the address of welcome to the convention on Cumberland next Tuesday. He is president of the Cumberland Island Hotel Com pany. The Racing Association.

Application has been filed in the clerk's office of Bibb superior court for a charter for the New Southern Racing Association, L. M. Boone, of Atlanta, manager. The incorporators are three well known citi-zens of Macon, W. B. Sperry, W. N. Fleetwood and H. R. Brown. Macon men have become identified with the project in orto give it local influence. The contract for repairing the stables, fences, grand stand and mile track was let today. The liquor privilege goes for $1,500. Good prices have also been obtained for the restaurant and other privileges. Mr. Outlip, of Delaware, will commence tomorrow to condition the mile track. Manager Boone will leave tomorrow for the north and west to book horses. About 100 have already been booked.

Legal Matters. In the court of ordinary today the following business was transacted: The will of the late J. R. Ray was probated. Mrs. Sarah Ray is executrix. Temporary letters of administration were granted to J. D. Runals on the estate of E. P. Runals. Letters of dismission were granted to Alexander Proudfit, executor of the estate of Julia A. Dacey. Military Election .

The Macon Light Infantry held an elec-tion tonight for captain to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Albert Jones. Adjutant J. E. P. Stevens, of the Second Georgia battalion, was unanimously elect ed. The Macon Hussars also held an election tonight for first lieutenant to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ben White. George Snowden was elected.

Secretary To Resign. There is a well founded rumor that Mr G. M. Rosser, the secretary of the Macon Young Men's Christian Association, will resign his position at a near date to enter active business. He has not yet tendered his resignation to the board of directors, but will do so soon. Mr. Rosser has been the secretary at Macon several years, and under his energetic and progressive ad-ministration the association has prozpered and grown greatly. Secretary Rosser will remain with the association long enough for his successor to be elected and become familiar with the affairs of the association

McDONALD BRINGS SUIT.

He Says That Mrs. Dougherty Has Hurt His Business. Rome, August 5.-(Special.)-One of the nost interesting suits that has been filed in a long time is the suit of A. B. McDonald against Alexander Dougherty for $5,000 dam-

The allegations in the complaint are that the defendant has accused him of having caused the death of defendant's brother while an inmate of the Keely institute, of which McDonald was manager.

He claims that this charge has injured him as manager of the institute to the extent that it is calculated to drive off pa-tronage and that such charges have dam-aged his usefulness in that capacity, as well as his character as a private citizen Dougherty is a wealthy real estate owner and saloon keeper, and McDonald is a farmer and stockman as well as manager of

A Sort of Counter Suit. This suit is really in the nature of a counter suit, as there is already a suit on file by Mrs. Sarah Dougherty, the mother of Alexander Dougherty, against McDonald for $15,000 damages for the death of her son, Dock Dougherty.

This complaint sets forth that Dock
Dougherty was an inmate of the institute in the early part of January, and that through the neglect and ill treatment of the patient McDonald and others caused the death of the patient; that McDonald eat and kicked the patient on several occasions, and that in consequence his death occurred on January 12th.

Testimony has been taken in that case and it will come up for trial at the next term of court, and will cause a sensation. Dougherty was carried to the institute about the first week in January on a prolonged spree, from which he never recov-

Whisky Slipped to Him.

The defense will show that he was la oring under a severe case of delirium tremens, and that his loud yells and wild ac tions rendered him uncontrollable, and that he broke the windows out of his room and attempted to jump out of a second story window on the frozen ground, and that con stant watch had to be kept on him day and night to prevent him from escaping and wandering off into the cold, which would have caused his death almost certainly.

For the well-being of other patients and for the purpose of keeping him more se curely and where he could be better cared for, the patient was removed to a house at some little distance from the main building, and a negro who had been in his em-ploy was placed in charge of him. Either through the connivance or neglect of this negro he was furnished whisky surreptitiously so that the physician in charge could not treat him properly. The negro was discharged, and he was carried back to the main building, when a bottle of whisky was found in the coalhouse from which it was believed he had been supplied,

His Body Badly Bruised. After Dougherty's death his body was ound to contain several terrible bruises one of which was of such a nature as to have caused him an agony of pain, but his condition was such that he seemed to be unconscious of bodily suffering and never intimated that he was so badly hurt,

The theory of those in change of the in-stitute was that he was hurt by jumping from a trestle to escape a train in the sub-urbs of the city while wandering around revious to being carried to the institute He was a bachelor, and had been in the grocery business in West Rome and was fairly well-to-do.

As for his mistreatment the institute peo-ple will set up that he was given every attention possible, and that he was not mistreated on any occasion.

Further Complications.

Additional complications will be brought about by the fact that the present company conducting the Rome branch of the Keely institute has never been duly organ-ized. It was removed from Dalton to Rome early in the winter and started up business with W. J. Houston as president and A B. McDonald, manager. There were sev eral other men of means included in its incorporators, and there were quite a large number of patients cured of the liquor and oplum habits, but the organization was never completed.

The question now arises as to who are really the responsible parties to the suit for damages. This will probably figure in the Dougherty suit. Both suits will be in volved with much interest, both on accoun of the prominence of the parties involved and of the interest felt in the Keely instiwhere so many patients have been treated. New Business Firms. Early in the fall another big shoe house will be opened in Rome by well-known busi ness men, Messrs. Cantrell and Miller, both of whom have every experience in the business and are full of energy and possess capital sufficient to start off under the most avorable auspices.

A. I. BRANHAM RESIGNS.

He Could Not Get His Salary and Gives Up His Job.

Brunswick, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)-Superintendent A. I. Branham, of the Branham, of the Glynn county schools, has announced his intention to resign his position. His action is due to the fact that the board of education's decreased income has caused a corresponding reduction in his salary, and he has found it more profitable to accept another position. He will still retain his residence here. Glynn's schools are in a bad condition financially, and since the last term ended five of the teachers have resigned. Four of them did so because their salaries had been reduced, Back salaries were due, and they saw no prospects of getting them within any reasonable length of time. Through the influence of President Isaacs, of the board of education, some of the teachers have got their money, the president accepting orders drawn on the board. Athens, Ga., August 5.—(Special)—The the consideration of the electric light ques tion. The contract with the company for lighting the city having expired, the city is forced to either make a new contract or build a system of its own. The great pre-ponderance of opinion is in favor of the latter plan, but considerable difference of opinion is expressed as regards the opera tion of the arc system alone or combined with the incandescent system and gas sys-tem. The present company protests against the city leaving it out in the cold, as the erection of a new system would practically confiscate their property. DEGENERATE JOURNALISM. Meldrim Guidon: The Macon Telegraph, on Tuesday published a list which it claimed was a list of all the papers in the state and their position on the silver question. This list gives the name of only ten papers in this district. This list gives the name of only ten papers in this district, seven against and three for "the free and unlimited and independent coinage of silver." It entirely ignores the existence of The Sylvania Telephone, The People's Press (Sylvania), The Zoar Llade and The Claxton Press, all of which are outspoken in the demand for free silver, which would make 7 to 7 instead of 7 to 3, oesides there are at least a half dozen papers in the district that have not taken any part in the discussion so far. This is enough to show that The Telegraph's list is absolutely unreliable.

Statesboro Star: The Telegraph has succeeded in finding a majority of the Georgia papers for the gold standard. Now, in order to show what amount of deception and unfairness was used, a look at the report of the first congressional district will show the cloven hoof. Every gold standard paper in the district, except one, is listed, and there are nine sliver papers in the district that are not mentioned. The Yelegraph ought to be a little more fair and impartial when, it goes to counting votes, but a full and fair count would have shown the majority in favor of silver. See the point?

Albany Herald: The Macon Telegraph is Jority in favor of silver. See the point?

Albany Herald: The Macon Telegraph is now engaged in explaining, amending and defending its recently published table which was intended to show that a majority of the newspapers of Georgia are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 18 to 1, and it makes a paragraph from The Herald the subject of an editorial in its yesterday's issue. What The Herald said about The Telegraph's list—that it was not perfect by any means—was true, and The Telegraph virtually proves the truth of the assertion by explaining and amending it.

Better Wages This Fall.

HELD A ROUSING MEETING LAST NIGHT The Contractors Say They Are Willing To Restore the Old Schedule of Wages

Paid To Carpenters.

The committee appointed from the local union of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, at a meeting held last Friday night, met last night in the hall of the order to confer with the contrac tors of the city.

At the meeting of the union last Friday night, resolutions were passed and adopted, asking that the old prices be restored. The carpenters have been working at reduced wages, and claim that these cuts were accepted from time to time solely on account of the hard times and the scarcity of work. Now, that more money is in circulation and more buildings are going up, they request that the old prices be restored. This committee was appointed to meet with the contractors were present when the meeting was called to order.

Mr. W. H. Hiscox, of the carpenters, was elected chairman of the meeting, and when he took the chair he stated that the commit tee had expected to meet all of the contrac-ters of the city, and that he was anxious ters of the city, and that he was anxious that all present express themselves in regard to the demands of the union men. Addresses were made by Messrs. J. M. Fluker, Joe Anderson and Pittman, of the contractors, and these gentlemen said that they thought that the carpenters were entitled to the restoration of wages, as the times were better and the demand for work was increasing daily

It was an enthusiastic meeting, and those present were satisfied that the prices would soon be restored. The matter, however, is er consideration at the meeting of the u ion carpenters at their meeting next Friday night. It may be that another committee will be appointed from the order of the present committee will be authorized to call a mass meeting of the contractors of the city, when all will be urged to be present.

The carpenters claim that the wages at present are not sufficient for the work that is being done-by them, and that their demands are reasonable enough. The old price that was in effect before the cut was $2.50 per day of ten hours, and the price that is now demanded is on the same basis—$2.25 per day of nine hours each. It is a debatable question whether the demands will be acceded to or not. The carpenters mean business and are deternined that they shall have the pay asked

It has been rumored for the past few days that a strike was about to be announced among the carpenters, but this was denied last night. A leading carpenter of the city, and a man prominent in the affairs of the organization, was seen and when asked about the question, said that he had heard nothing about the ru-mored strike and knew nothing of it.

"I am sure that the report did not have its origin with union men, and we have not as yet discussed this phase of the situation. If there is a refusal on the part of the carpenters to accede to our demands, then it is possible that a strike may be de-clared. This, of course, would be at the request of the order, and whether it will occur or not is a matter of speculation. It is possible, but I have no idea that such will take place. It is not our custom t lo business in this manner. For myself

Painted in large golden letters will be the words "Journeymen Tailors' Union of America," and in the center of the banner will be a picture of Adam and Eve, who were the first tailors of the world. The picture will represent them while they sit sewing the leaves of figs together. At the bottom of the banner will be printed, "Local Unon No. 51, Atlanta, Ga."

The badges that will be worn on Labor Day will be similar to the banners, with Day will be similar to the banners, with the exception that the picture will not be used. The floats that will be in line will be very beautiful, and the tailors are busily at work upon them. The floats will have the design of the union on both sides, and on the floats will be three tailors, one sewing on a garment, one sewing on a machine and one pressure the electric. On the ing on a garment, one sewing on a machine and one pressing the clothes. On the sides of the floats will be the names of the firms of the city who use union made clothes. There will be several floats in line, and possibly two or more bands will be secured for the occasion. The procession will be one of the largest that has ever paraded the streets of Atlanta, and it will attract a grat deal of attention.

Local Union No. 5 of the Tin, Sheet Iron and Cornice Workers of the International Association also held a meeting last night at the hall of the Federation of Trades, at which a committee was appointed to arrange for the selection of the overhauls and badges that will be worn by the tin-ners on labor day.

About eighty tinners will be in line, and they will carry tin umbrellas. They will make a novel appearance and will attract much attention. The committee appointed ast night will make a report at their next a little magazine in connection with the weather bureau service.

His plan is to furnish at regular intervals, to the merchants and business men of Georgia, a tabulated statement showing the exact condition of the weather and the probabilities for rain or other changes during the week. The value of this sheet to merchants, especially those engaged in the business of shipping, is beyond estimating.

No provision has been made by the state of Georgia for the publication of weather reports. In this respect Georgia is far behind the other states of the union. Captain Hunt proposes to supply this need by getting up a little sheet of his own. For this stroke of enterprise he deserves the encouragement and help of the business men of Atlanta. His purpose is not to make money, and in order to carry out his plans he is willing to devote a part of his salary Legions Meet on the 21st.

Under the shade of the forest oaks at Big Shanty Ga., the gallant survivors of Cobb's and Phillips's legions will hold their big reunion this year.

Around the campfire the old soldiers will gather in a vast multitude to recount the hardships and privations of the war, and experience, after the lapse of thirty years, the martial emotions that crowded upon them in the ecstacy of battle. The tattered ensign under which they marched to victory a thousand times will be unfurled to the breeze again, though not in the bitterness of strife nor in the angry defiance of hatred. Only the memories of heroism and fidelity to principl will be aroused by the old flag, all other passions having been committed to oblivion long years ago. It will be a joyful meeting of old veterans, battle-scarred and meeting of old veterans, battle-scarred and weary of the long march of life, but young again in the bold and restless spirit of the sixties.

It was the purpose of the old soldiers originally to hold the reunion at Madison, Ga. They have since decided, however, to meet in the neighborhood of Big Shanty, on the 21st of this month. The locality is rich in reminiscences and is famous as the battle ground of the northern and southern armies during the last days of the conern armies during the last days of the conern armies during the last days of the confederacy.

The call for the reunion is issued by President W. J. Manning of Phillips's legion, and is signed by Secretary H. G. McCormick. Every old soldier is expected to attend the reunion and to bring with him the members of his family and a basket of dinner. No set orations will be delivered, but a number of short talks will be made by the old soldiers. The day will be crowded with incidents and the veterans will entertain each other with humorous and spicy anecdotes, telling how they shook in their boots as they stood up before the yankees and prayed for night to put a stop to the everlasting skirmish. put a stop to the everlasting skirmish.

From the present indications the reunion at Big Shanty will be a notable gathering of old soldiers.

CHARGES SAID TO BE TOO HIGH

The Georgia Railroad Commission Asked the Roads To Grant a Reduction, but the Companies Declined.

Today the case of the peach growers against the railroads will come up at the United States court before the interstate commerce commission.

the city today from Washington, Commissioner Morrison and Commissioner Clem-

Testimony will be taken before these in the case on both sides. The peach growers will set up their claim that the rates on what are known in railroad traffic vernacular as "green peaches" are entirely too high, that the railroads have been charging too much on hauls all this season and that the rates ought to be adjusted more

The railroads will respond with testimoby showing, in accordance with their claims all along, that they are hauling reaches to the east on just as low rates as can possibly be allowed to the growers. that it would be at actual loss to the roads to haul them for any less and that for such cause they do not see their way clear to lower the rates on business-like and reasonable grounds.

This case is a familiar one, having been before the Georgia state railroad commission for the past few weeks.

It is remembered, doubtless, that the case came up upon petition of Colonel Marshall J. Hatcher, of Macon, to the state railroad commission, charging the Georgia Central with having made too heavy charges on several shipments of peaches. This case gave scope to consider the question by the railroad commission of Georgia and great liberality was allowed in the hearing. The railroads were all heard from and the peach growers of the state were represented by Mr. Hatcher and Mr. John D. Cunningham,

It was decided by the state railroad com mission to call upon the railroads to lower the rates on peaches, it being held that the present rates were too high and unreasonable. The Georgia commission urged the roads to cut down the rates to $130 per car to New York instead of $175 as now charged by the roads. Just what this meant is not clear—that is to say, from what points in 'Georgia, as no points were named in the ruling of the state commission. Probably the commission had reference to Macor as the average point, but when it is known that the rates from Macon are only $162 and not $175, it is not probable that the dissioners could have had this point

At any rate the Georgia commission had gone to the full limit of its authority in asking the railroads to reduce the rates. They could not force them to reduce, and when the roads refused to reduce on the ground that they could not upon equitable grounds do so without a loss in the ship-ments of peaches, all that the Georgia commission could do was to bring the case up before the interstate commerce commission for a hearing, it being an inter-state matter and beyond the authority of the Georgia commission.

It was in this way that the case has come up and will be put on hearing today.
Owing to the fact that only two of the members of the interstate commerce commission will be in Atlanta to try the case it is thought probable that there will be no argument. The testimony will probably be taken, however, before the commissioners today and the hearing of argument will probably be taken up when the railroad men are passing through Washington on their way home from the New York meeting of the Southern Railway and Steamship ciation. That will be about the middle programme, however, for today's hearing is not certain, and there may be a full trial of the case, including arguments from both sides, as well as testimony,

The state will be represented by Attorney General Joe Terrell, and the railroads will probably each have their own attorneys on hand for the argument in the case if the arguments are to be heard at this sitting. The case is full of interest and the testimony will doubtless prove important and lasting, as the issue will be practically settled by this decision for a long time to come.

The peach growers of Georgia have persistently claimed that the roads were charging unreasonable and unjust rates for the shipment of peaches. They claim that the roads could easily haul "green peaches" more cheaply, and they have, after vain petitions to the railroads, brought the case up in the tribunals of the state and the nation, to force the roads to come to terms in the matter.

On the other side the railroads claim that It is absolutely impossible for them to haul peaches at a lower rate. They show that peaches at a lower rate. They show that the average refrigerator car in which the peaches are hauled weighs, about 12,000 pounds more than the av-erage plain freight car. In ad-dition to this they claim that they have to haul about 12,000 pounds of ice per car to refrigerate the apartment for the pearles. This makes about 24,000 pounds of surplus weight that is hauled with a car of peaches. In addition to this extra weight on which the roads could collect freight charges if it were anything else than peaches, it is held by the roads that they have to make fast runs with peaches to get them to market before they decay or ruin. This involves greater expense then has to be undergone en any other 'and of freight. Frequently the reads have run special engines, pulling only one car of peaches to make quick sched-

All these things will be brought out by he railroads with telling effect.

It is even said that many of the 'nost minent fruit growers in the state will be before the countilssioners today to give tes-timony that they are not clamoring for a reduction in rates, since they know a reduc tion would mean an inferior service. They claim to be willing to pay for the retriger-ator service. There are many turns to the case, and it thought that the hearing today will prove intensely interesting.

STARTING THE SHOPS.

Vice President Baldwin and Engineer

Hudson Here.

There will be a conference in Atlanta to-day between various officials of the Southern railway for the purpose of starting the work on the shops. Engineer Hudson called for bids last week and it is understood that he has received quite a number of them sealed. They will probably be opened by him and Mr. Baldwin, third vice president, who came yes-terday, some time today.

The contractor making the best bid will get the work of constructing the new shops.
The plans for the new shops of the Southern are already on paper and have been illustrated in The Constitution.

The Southern intends to give the shops are the page the shops are the here far more importance than ever be-fore. The efficiels say the capacity will be increased to three times their present pro-rections and they will be enabled to turn out four engines to where one is turned out at present.

All of the various departments of the shops will be increased and the Atlanta storeroom will be enlarged to a capacity rich, red blood and gives renewed vigor.

ent to furnish all the western system with goods.

These enlargements will mean much to Atlanta. They would have been made long ago but for the obstacles that were thrown in the way by the lawsuits that were pending in the courts against the road for alleged damages for the obstruction of certain seenues in the neighborhood of the shops. These suits have been put out of the way, however, by the recent turn things took in the Georgia supreme court in rendering a ruling in favor of the road in the test case that was brought.

DOUBLE TRACK TO THE EXPO. Southern's Suburban Trains Will Be Run on Excellent Schedules.

The Southern railway is determined to give the very best sort of service to and from the exposition. from the exposition.

The double track lines have already been completed with the exceptions of the remodeling of some of the switch tracks impediately beside the Markham house, where all the trains will arrive and depart during the exposition.

There will be two tracks running beside the Markham and three broad platforms extending three hundred feet down the trucks. On these platforms the crowds going out to the exposition will wait for their trains, which will depart every five or ten minutes, the schedules to be arranged ac-and from the grounds.

Fifty new open cars have just been completed and stand ready in the shops for the use of the Southern's exposition trains.

They will be like the cars used by the Illinois Central out to the world's fair grounds from Chicago. Tickets will be sold for the exposition trains at several places in the city near the Markham house corner so as to avoid the trouble of crowd ing around one window.

The cars will be closed after leaving the Markham house and will run through to the exposition grounds without stopping.

THE "SUNSET LIMITED."

It Will Have Direct Connection with the Southern Railway. Washington, August 5.-The Southern Pacific railway will, commencing October Ist, run a semi-weekly "sunset limited" between New Orleans and San Francisco, connecting with Southern railway trains between New York and New Orleans. But one fast train a week, known as the "sunset limited," is now being run between New Orleans and the Pacific coast. Officials of the two systems are satisfied that the increased business between the Pacific slope and the east will justify the additional train, and they also express the belief that during the holding of the exposition at Atlanta the passenger traffic between Mexico and Texas will be largely angmented. Under the new arrangement pas-sengers leaving New York on Tuesday and Saturday evenings of each week will make a close connection at New Orleans on Thursday and Monday mornings for San Francisco. Under the present schedule the travel between New York and Los Angeles, over the Southern and by the "sunset limited," is seventeen hours shorter than by the northerly routes. When the addi-tional "limited" is established the time will be shortened three hours.

The Southern railway managers have decided, in view of the increasing business over their road from the Pacific coast, that they will appoint a California agent with headquarters at San Francisco on September 1st. Heretofore the road has had no d.rect representative on the coast.

GETTING THE CENTRAL IN SHAPE. Mr. Comer Says Nothing Seems To Be in the Way of Reorganization. Mr. H. M. Comer, co-receiver of the Georgia Central, is in the city and talks in-terestingly about the reorganization of that system of roads.

He says he has heard of nothing that is likely to much longer delay the reorganization of the property, and he gives it as his opinion that the formal steps of getwill be taken in the near future. He thinks between now and December this action

Under the plan of reorganization the Central is to be owned by the Southern, but will not be operated as a subordinate line. On the other hand, it will be a sep erate corporation, with a president and a separate lot or officers, and will be operated on an entirely independent plan.

The Central is a great system of roads to itself and it is interesting to the general railroad world of the south to know that the property will soon be put on its feet again.

The Atlantians went down before th Pelicans yesterday in fine shape. Manager Knowles presented Norton for the box work, but the youngster evidently had an off day of it and was pounded around unmercifully. In his younger days Knowles did some twirling and in the second inning put Nor-ton on first, going into the box himself. He put the ball right along where the Pelicans wanted it and it was evident to all that the manager had forgotten all he

New Orleans, August 5.—(Special.)—Pitcher Norton, Manager Knowles's Delaware collegian, was wild as a marsh hare today, and the locals made enough runs in the second inning to win the game. After he had force ed three men home Manager Knowles went in to pitch. The result was appalling. He found it as hard to get the ball over the plate as Norton had, and in the seven inings that followed the local batsmen boosted their averages considerably. YESTERDAY'S RACES.

Henry Track at Brighton Beach. Good Card at Saratoga.

Brighton Beach, L. I., August 5.—The weather was fine today and as a result fully 3,000 persons journeyed here to witness the races. The track was heavy after yesterday's rain storm and in spots it was ness the races. The track was heavy after yesterday's rain storm and in spots it was "dead," which made fast going out of the question. Though the fields were small, some good sport was witnessed, but the talent went wild in their calculations, only two favorites winning, and the bookies reaped a harvest.

First race, one mile, Clarus won, Salonica second, Warlike third. Time, 1:45.

Second race, half a mile, Imposition won, Article second!, Duccaneer third. Time, 0:494.

REFERRED TO THREE COMMITTEES Mysterious Disappearance of the Prohibitionists' Petition.

Reavy Wagons and Drays Must Keep Off the Streets Paved with Asphalt and Brick-Routine of Council.

Warm and sultry was the council chamber yesterday afternoon during the regular session of that body.

There was not a palm-leaf fan in the hall, but before the meeting was over there was enough breeze to make the place an interesting one to those about.

More than three hours were given by the members of the council to the affairs of the city needing legislation, and no little work was accomplished during the time. The contemplated extension of time to the saloons of the city during the months of the exposition was disposed of by referring all the papers presented to the police, the tax and the ordinance committees. Wagons loaded with heavy material and heavy empty wagons were denied the use of streets paved with asphalt or brick where it was possible to avoid the use of those streets. Portraits of ex-Mayors Hillyer and Cooper were swung in the council chamber and became a part of the gallery of mayors of the city, and the ordinance requiring new flagging in certain sections of the city, as prescribed in the Day, ordinance, was

In addition to these, many matters of importance were disposed of, making the session one full of interest and business.

KEEP OFF THE ASPHALT AND BRICK Wagons of Heavy Draft Must Not Travel on These Streets.

Peachtree street, with its asphalt, Pryor street, with its brick, and Butler, with its will now be free from big, lumbering, noisy wagons until the close of the ex-

Light vehicles drawn by fast nags, pret-ty carts pulled by swell teams, and hand-some carriages following stylish horses may bowl over the smooth surfaces of these es for the next three months, but the cob that pulls the butcher's wagon mus seek a street parallel in delivering goods unless that delivery be on one of the streets named. Even then the wagon must approach the block in which the point of delivery is located by another street and use the street only for the block on which the delivery is to be made.

An ordinance to that effect was read soon after the general council convened. It was a short paper and was to the point, providing, as it did, that the street was intended for a drive and for the pleasure of the people more than for the benefit of the heavy vehicles which used it, not because it was necessary to move over it, but because it was a drive so easy that heavy loads could be moved without trouble. It was not a paper which contemplated the exclusion from these streets wholly of vehicles of the objectionable character outlined, but one which sought to make these streets less frequented by them. Its reading attracted the attention of the members, and as the clerk dropped the paper, the rules were suspended to hear from Hon, Fulton Colville, "That ordinance," said Mr. Colville, "does not confine itself wholly to Peachtree street as some suppose. If you will notice the wording of it you will see that it specifies streets paved with asphalt and brick. have asphalt on Peachtree and we have brick on Butler and Pryor streets. Now I am more conversant with the situation on Peachtree than on any other street. On Peachtree wagons are almost constantly moving along loaded down with heavy stone. This cuts into the asphalt, and the wagon makes a loud noise. Besides that, the street is always thronged with carriages and buggies and pedestrians and wagons make greater, and that, too, when the wagons are moving to a point not on Peachtree. If they were to take some of the streets that run along by Peachtree it would relieve that street of much of the crowd. Now durthat street of much of the crowd. Now during the exposition cars are to be run on that street every half minute and that will make the crush greater. If the heavy draft wagons are taken off it won't hurt any one. That ordinance does not prevent the delivery of goods or the hauling of building material on the streets."

"I am for the ordinance," said Mr. Harman. "If the city were to take nothing but the cost of the street and any street running parallel with it into consideration th would adopt the ordinance. On Peachtree the cost is $4, while on the other streets. When the blocks are laid, the cost is $1.49. The heavy traffic certainly wears the asphalt and I should think it would be to the city's interest to keep the wagons off. I am not here to legislate in the interest of Peachtree, but am here to legislate for the city of Atlanta."

"I have been approached about this matter," said Mr. Nelms, "and I favor giving the ordinance, a trial. I don't know whether I would vote for it if it were to become perpetual, but if it is given a trial I shall be for it. During the exposition Peachtree will be one of the main thoroughfares to the exposition grounds and we will need all of it."

Mr. Harralson presented an amendment, making the ordinance read only for the time of the exposition.

"I should like to vote for it," said Mr. Bell, "if the passage does not prohibit the delivery of material on the street that is needed there. I think, however, that every street is entitled to the traffic that naturally goes that way."

Mr. Welch, of the second, said that Peachtree drew travel that did not belong to it for many reasons and he thought that the street ought to be protected against that travel.

"I think," said Mr. Howell, "that that ordinance is for the benefit of some and the injury of others. Now, I live on Ivy ordinance is for the benefit of some and the injury of others. Now, I live on Ivy street and it runs parallel with Peachtres. By the adoption of this ordinance much of the travel that now goes rightfully to Penchtree would be driven to Ivy. I think Ivy should carry all the travel that belongs to her and I think Peachtree should do the same. Now I move that we table the ordinance."

the paintings.

Both pieces of work are fine and as they hang side by side they recall the fact that Mayor Hillyer was Mayor Cooper's immediate predecessor in office.

THE STONE FLAGGING GOES DOWN. A Long Petition Is Sent in Against Placing Stone Flagging.

A petition, signed by some of the largest property owners and leading citizens of Atlanta, against the enforcement of Mr. Day's ordinance requiring flagging at points specified in that ordinance was presented and read.

Mr. Harman, a member of the street committee, presented the petition and advocated its adoption by the council, declaring that the enforcement of the Day ordinance just now would work a great hardship. He stated that there were present several gentlemen who were anxious heard and moved that the rules be pended so as to hear from them. The rules were suspended by the unanimous consenof the hody.

Mr. Healy was the first one to protest and declared that the ordinance would work the greatest hardship on many of the property owners.

Mr. G. V. Gress followed Mr. Healy, declaring that he thought it an imposition to compel the property ewars to put down the new flagging just now. He thought that some of the old flagging could be patched and made to answer for a good sidewalk

"I see," said Mr. Day, "that Mr. Gress and some of the other gentlemen misun-derstand this matter. The city engineer sent out two kinds of notices. One called for new flagging and the other for repairs, I think his called for repairs. If that is the case he does not have to put down new flag-

"Then, if I have misunderstood it," said Mr. Gress, "I can patch my walk?"
Mr. Day declared that he could. "Now, my notice," said Hon. E. C. Peters, "calls for new flagging on Peachtree and Wall streets. It does not call for repairs. Now, next year I am of the opinion that we will tear away that building we have there and put up a fine structure. That flagging will not be of any use to me next year and yet I must spend $600 for it for the one year. I have been told that if the city went on and did this work and then tried to collect the money the collection could not be made.'

Mr. Day showed that the cost of all the work contemplated would be about $14,000 and declared that it would work no hardship to any one.

"This is a bad year to undertake that work," said Mr. Harman. "The people of Atlanta have given this year about a quar ter of a million dollars to the exposition and now they are called on to pay out this money. I move to repeal the Day ordi-nance and instruct the city engineer to see that the repair work is pushed along under the laws as they have been."

Mr. Day moved to table the repealing ordinance of Mr. Harman's and the motion to table was carried by a vote of 12 to 6. The petition from the property owners was then ordered filed.

That Steam Laundry. John Silvey and others presented a peti-tion for a repeal of the building permit granted Shumaker & Seltzer for a steam laundry on Marietta and Spring streets. It was shown that the building inspector had granted Shumaker & Seltzer a building permit at that point and that the specification, after being aniended, showed that the place was to be used as a laundry.

Mr. Welch, of the second, asserted that it was not a matter for the council to handle. He asserted that the permit had been granted and that the people who had petitioned for a revocation of the building permit would have to go to police court permit would have to go to ponce court and show that it was a nuisance or go to the state courts with an injunction against the building. He opposed suspending the rules to hear from parties present on these grounds and the rules were not suspended, Another New Bridge.

"I have a resolution," said Mr. Welch of the fifth, "and I would like for the council to act on it this afternoon."

The resolution recited the fact that the bridge, now in use over the railroad tracks and that a new bridge is badly needed. The resolution called for an investigation of the situation by the city engineer and demanded the construction as soon as it could be un-dertaken, of a fine and substantial iron or steel bridge over the tracks.

"Now, I ask," said Mr. Welch of the fifth,

Then one week later the bridge will be about ready for traffic."

Is He with Dr. Hawthorne? Mr. Welch of the second presented a resolution calling on the police committee to regulate the moving of beyoles and tricycles on the streets of Atlanta.

"There are many of the whoels in the city," said Mr. Welch, "and the manner in which they are driven about makes it dangerous. There ought to be some rules for this."

"I'd like to have it down," said Mr. Welch

"I'd like to have it down, said to fit fifth, "that that ordinance was introduced by Mr. Welch of the second. I don't want any one else's honors but my own."

The resolution of Mr. Welch of the second and the request of Mr. Welch of the fifth Chicago Is Wanted.

Mr. Inman presented a resolution inviting the people of the city of Chicago to Atlanta during the exposition. The resolution re-cited the fact that a friendly feeling has always existed between the two cities, and that the people of the northwest will find themselves warmly welcomed. It provided, too, that a copy of the resolution should be sent to the mayor and general council of Chicago. It was adopted.

To Bury the Negro Panners. The relief committee, Mr. Mayson chairman, presented an ordinance calling for bids from the colored undertakers for the burial of negro paupers. The bids are to be sealed and the contract is to be awarded by for Extended Hours. Those extra two hours for the sale of whisky and beer by retail during the months of September, October, November and December were not granted

The two hours were asked for by a long list of taxpayers and a list equally as long asked that the request be denied and that the law as it now reads should not be changed for the benefit of the exposition or for the pleasure of any other quantity in the city of Atlanta.

Both requests were presented to the general council in the presence of a thronged chamber, and every word that was spoken by the few who talked was listened to with the closest and most careful attention. The large crowd present was composed of leading citizens, many of whom had been prominent in the prohibition ranks when those fights were on, while next to them and in close converse before the question came up sat an Atlantian equally well known and just as high in the councils of the anti-prohibitionists in those days. After the greater part of the large crowd had left the council chamber a sensation as great, if not greater, than any disposi-tion of the whisky question the council tion of the whisky question the council might have made was sprung on the body and just now the city clerk, the city marshal and others of the city hall official list are at work most industriously trying to solve the sensational feature, which is completely enveloped in mystery.

A Petition Taken Away. A petition against the extension of the hours as asked for by those who favor a change from the present situation of affairs was taken from the clerk's table and carried away, carried so far and so quietly that no trace or it could be secured. Even the Hawkshaw abilities of every member of the council availed nothing, and now every one is wondering where that paper has gone. The paper was a large one and is said to have contained the names of some 1,200 or 1,400 persons who are opposed to the change asked for. It was the first paper filed with the city clerk and was delivered to him in his office some hours before the general council met. The back of the paper showed that it was a petition from Green T. Dodd and others for a denial of the petition to change the h and was laid away by the city clerk in his desk with the other papers. When the hour for the council meeting came around the clerk, or his deputy, Captain Forbes, carried the paper to the council chamber with the other papers and books that would be needed in the afternoon. The petition was laid on the desk with the other pa pers and was there while the question was under consideration, but before the session was over it was missed, and the most diligent and careful search for it could not lo-cate it. The search continued until the deputy clerk was satisfied that the petition was gone, and then he informed the may-or pro tem., who in turn informed the members of the council, requesting the member who might have the paper to sur render it to the clerk.

It Was Very Bulky. But the paper was not surrendered. The paper is large and bulky, and, as has been stated, is said to have contained between 1,200 and 1,400 names of persons who are opposed to any change. It was last seen, by any one who can now recall it, resting on the end of the deputy's desk, near the small stand from which he reads. Then it was bound by a large rubber and was just as the clerk had it when he left his office with it. After all of the pa pers pertaining to the contemplated change had been handed into the clerk Captain Forbes began bunching them for a batch, and then for the first time missed the big roll. At first he was of the opinion that the paper was on the reporters' table, and laid the others to one side, but when the end of the session was approaching and Captain Forbes made a demand upon the reporters' table for the paper, he was informed that it had not been there. A search was at once instituted for the miss-ing document, but it could not be found high nor low. One after another of the members were questioned about the paper but none could throw any light upon it, except one who asserted that he had seen one of the gentlemen interested in the success of the paper leave the council cham-ber with a package of papers under his

The gentleman could not say, however, that the missing petition was in the package.

Every nook and corner, every drawer and pigeon hole about the deputy's desk was searched, but the petition could not be found and then it was that the deputy informed the clerk of the absence of the paper and the clerk in turn informed the mayor pro tem. The mayor pro tem. listened to the story and rapping his gavel hard for attention remarked:

hard for attention remarked:

"Gentlemen, the clerk misses one of the petitions against the change in the liquor law. It is the big one signed by Mr. Green, T. Dodd and others. If any member has taken the paper away I hope he will bring it up."
"I move that every one be searched," said Mr. Hirsch, of the board of alder-

"Now, I ask," said Mr. Weich of the fifth,
"that that paper be referred to the bridge committee. I happen to be one of that committee, and I'll get something done with it, I promise you."

The paper was so referred.

Mr. Bell, chairman of the bridge committee, presented a report showing that the old Broad street bridge had been sold to Armstrong Bros. for $400.

"The work on the new bridge," said Mr.
Bell, "is moving along ficely, and by Saturday the bottom of the bridge will be finished, so Superintendent Webster tells me.

Mr. Day, of the second ward, injected the question of extension into the session. "I have here," said he, "a petition from citizens asking that the ordinance governing the sale of liquor in the city of Atlanta be so amended and changed as to allow the saleons to remain open till 12 o'clock at night. I will ask the clerk to read the paper."

Clerk Phillips read the petition, which was signed by quite a number of Atlanta's leading property owners. It requested permission for the saleons to keep open until 12 o'clock during the exposition, declaring that the saleon keepers pad a heavy license and that the saleons were wanted open for the benefit of the visitors during the exposition, as they were not accustomed to the laws as they are exercised in Atlanta.

"I move," said Mr. Hirsch, almost before the clerk's voice had died out, "that that petition and all other petitions relative to that matter be referred to the police committee, the tax committee and the ordi-nance committee, where they can be con-sidered and all parties who want to be heard can be heard." Norcross to the Front.

Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles was in the act of putting the question to the house when the Rev. Virgil Norcross entered the railing and advancing to the clerk's desk addressed the chair.

"I will be compelled," said Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles, "to inform the gentleman that he cannot address the council without a suspension of the rules."

"I should like—" began Mr. Norcross.
The mayor pro tem.'s gavel fell and as

The mayor pro tem.'s gavel fell and as it came down Mr. Harman secured the floor, moving that the rules be suspended so that Mr. Norcross could be heard.
"I think," said Mr. Hirsch, "that the place for the argument is before the committees."

"I should like to hear Mr. Norcross. said Mr. Campbell, "but I think, like Mr. Hirsch, that the committees are the mem-bers to hear what the parties interested may have to say."

The motion to suspend the rules so that Mr. Norcross could address the council was voted down. Mr. Hirsch's motion pre-

Then a half dozen petitions were handed in and passed to the clerk, who filed them away, marking them for the three com-mittees named. The large crowd saw that that was apparently the end of the mat-ter and left the chamber, but just before the session closed Mr. Hirsch brought the matter up again and something like a vote was taken on it. t before Mr. Hirsch presented the subject for the second time, Mr. Camp, who is chairman of the police committee, and who is supposed to be friendly to the change, and Mr. Nelms, who has expressed himself as being in favor of the extension, had been excused from further attendance. It was an ordinance Mr. Hirsch handed in and it called for the repeal of the present law after September 1st next. In lieu of that ordinance one was substi-tuted making the closing hour 12 o'clock and the life of the new law until the last day of December, 1895.

"Now I desire to say," remarked Mr. Hirsch, as the ordinance was read, "that I introduce this with the request that it be referred to the same committees as the other papers seek."

The Ordinance Voted Down. "I move to table that ordinance," said Mr. Inman, quickly, "and on the motion call for the ayes and nayes." The call was sustained and when the roll was completed it was found:

Ayes—Mayson, Welch of the second, Day, Dodge, Bell, Campbell, Miller, Harman and Immen. man and Inman-9. Nays-Harralson, Howell, Colvin, Hirsch, Tolbert, Welch of the fifth and Sims-7.
Absent-Mr. Camp, of the first, and Mr.

Nelms, of the seventh. Had Mr. Camp and Mr. Nelms been present the vote would have most likely been o to 9, and the result would have been with Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles.

How Mayor Pro Tem. Broyles would have voted cannot be said, as he declined to indicate when asked.

CONSPIRED TO KILL EDWARDS.

The Theory of the Police, Which Resulfed in Three Arrests. The murderer of Thomas Edwards, the negro who was shot to death on Peters street Saturday night, has not yet been apprehended. Arthur Young, the negro who committed the crime; escaped from the throng of people near the scene of the murder and cannot be located by the officers, although they have several clews that may lead to the capture of the murderer.

Three negroes suspected of conspiracy in connection with the murder of Edwards, were arrested by the county police yester-day and lodged in the station house. They will be held until the crime cap be investigated further, the officers believing that the negroes knew of and aided Young in his intention of killing Edwards. One of the 'hree negroes is thought to have loaned Young the pistol with which the crime was com-mitted, and the others are suspected of having helped the murderer to get away. The three negroes all live near Adamsville in the lower part of the county, from which place Young came to Atlanta Saturday to go on a negro picnic at Springfield, near Peyten. The men were arrested at their Peyton. The men were arrested at their homes about ten miles from the city about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. They were brought to the city by Officers Verner, Turner, Bradley and T. B. Lanford, who arrested them, and were locked up on charges of disorderly conduct and quarreling, by which charge the officers evidently expect to hold the negroes until the case can be investigated further. Their names are Howell Kennon, Charly Elder and Wilburn Glenn.

Howell Kennon is accused of lending Young the pistol which he used in killing Edwards, but the negro strongly Genies the accusation. The other two negroes are said to have returned to Adamsville just about day Sunday morning, and it is that fact that gave rise to the suspicion that they were with Young after the crime had been committed.

It is believed by some of the officers works.

with Young after the crime had been committed.

It is believed by some of the officers working on the case that a general conspiracy to kill Edwards was concocted by Young and his friends, and it is certain that the murder will be investigated until every circumstance connected with it has been looked into. The county officers, headed by Chief Verner, are working unceasingly on the case, there being no doubt in the minds of the officers that the murderer has left the city, which hinders the city officers from standing a chance of capturing the murderer.

CONFLICT BETWEEN LABOR BODIES. Chicago Garment Workers Against

Chicago, August 5.—The national convention of trades assembly 23 of the Knights of Labor began in this city today. This assembly is composed of local assemblies of garment workers from all over the country. They constitute the Sovereign faction of the Knights of Labor and are making a fight on the United Garment Workers of the American Federation of Labor in consequence of an attack recently made upon them by that organization.

There were about twenty delegates present when the meeting was called to order today by Master Workman Martin C. Zeegers, of St. Louis. These included delegates from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and all the great clothing manufacturing centers. Edward B. Sabine, of Syraouse, N. Y., acted as recording and financial secrytary.

Today's session was devoted to organization and the appointisent of committees. All of the officers will be made permanent and what action taken will be to pass some sort of resolutions expressing disilike of the methods of the United Garment Workers of America, which is by far the largest body of garment workers now in existence. TRUSTEE'S SALE.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—Whereas, the Brosius Motor Sewing Machine Company, a corporation of said county, did on the 1st day of October, 1891, make, execute and deliver to the undersigned as trustee a deed of trust in and 40 the following described properly, to-wit:

All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the city of Atlanta, state and county aforesaid, being a part of land lot number eighty-five, in the fourteenth district of said county, commencing at the southeast corner of Wells and Ocmulgee streets and running southernly along the eastern side of Ocmulgee street. number eighty-five, in the fourteenth district of said county, commencing at the southeast corner of Wells and Ocmulgee streets and running southernly along the eastern side of Ocmulgee street five hundred feet, more or less, to Glenn street, thence running easterly along the north side of Glenn street to the right of way of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, thence exterding northwesterly along said right of way six hundred and twenty-five feet, more or less, to Wells street, thence running westerly along the south side of Wells street one hundred and ninety (190) feet, more or less, to beginning point, with all the improvements unon the same, consisting of a main building of brick, with metal roof forty by one hundred and fifty feet, three stories and a basement high; a rumbling room made of brick, with metal roof twenty by forty feet, one story high; a foundry building made of brick, with slate roof, forty by sixty feet, one story high; boiler house and blacksmith shop made of brick, with metal roof twenty by seventy feet, one story high, with brick smokestack adjoining, with two fire-proof vaults, tanks, piping, fixtures and elevator included in said buildings, and four wooden outhouses; also the machinery and tools in said building, consisting of two fifty-horse power Harrison safety boilers, heaters, one eighty-horse power Payne automatic engine, one ten-horse power Payne automatic eng after be placed or located in or on the same.

And, whereas, said deed was given under and by virtue of a resolution of the board of directors of the Brosius Motor Sewing Machine Company, passed at a meeting held the 28th day of August, 1891, which resolution authorized the issue of bonds on said property to the amount of forty thousand dollars, maturing in five years and bearing interest at the rate of eight percent per annum, payable semi-annually, which bonds were to be secured by a trust dead or mortgage, covering the plant and sand property to the amount of forty thousand dollars, maturing in five years and bearing interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, which bonds were to be secured by: a trust deed, or mortgage, covering the plant and other property of said company;

And, whereas, by the terms of said deed of trust a failure on the part of said company to pay any semi-annual installment of interest on said bonds within sixty days after the same became due and after demand made for the same, or a failure on the part of said company to keep said property insured for the full amount of forty thousand dollars, and the policies therefor constantly assigned to said trustee, then and in either of said events, the whole amount of the principal of said bonds should become due at the option of the trustee or of the holders of said bonds. And it is made the duty of the trustee at the request in writing of the holders of a majority of said bonds to sell said property at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash at the courthouse door of said county, within the legal hours of sale, on the first Tuesday in the month, after advertising the same as provided by law for sheriff's sales, and full power and authority is given to said trustee to convey tifle to the purchaser at such sale and apply the proceeds first to the expense of the said bonds, and the balance to said corporation.

Now, therefore, the said Broslus Motor Sewing Machine Company having defaulted in the payment of the interest coupons due on the first day of April, 1895, and said default having continued for more than sixty days, after demand made, and having failed to keep in force insurance to the amount of forty thousand dollars, as agreed in said deed of trust executed, I. William R. Hammond, trustee as aforesaid, exercising the option vested in me as the party of the second part in and undersaid deed of trust, have and do hereby declare the whole amount of the principal of said bonds to sell said property at public outcry, on the first Tuesday form Club of William and Wall streets is not ready to pay for the stuff that it sends out, if it finds that the prominent newspapers of the country are not ready and willing to print it on any other terms. We do not doubt it. The Reform Club has behind it the immense corruption fund which The New York Financial Chronicle suggested that Wall street should raise in order to perpetuate the single gold standard. The newspapers that are known to be in favor of the restoration of silver receive circulars every day advising them that the goldbug mountain has brought forth another

We have no doubt that the papers that are willing to print the execrable stuff which the William and Wall Streets Reform Club is prepared to send out by the ton receive fair advertising rates for the matter which they inflict on their readers. If this stuff were marked by the usual signs which indicate an advertisement, nothing would be thought of it; and yet, it is not only printed as straight reading matter, but the subsidized press uses a part of it as editorial matter. This is a very cheap way of making money in the newspaper business, but we are glad to say that no newspaper in Georgia, so far as we know, has sold either its news or its editorial columns to the Wall Street Reform Club for the purpose of convincing the voters of this state that republican financial doctrines are better for the people than those that have been advocated by the democratic party since the foundation of the republic.

Nevertheless, the Reform Club of Wall street is making a very stirring campaign in all sections of the country. It is buying all the newspapers that can be bought; it is subsidizing all the editors that can be subsidized; and it is working above ground like a buzzard and underground like a mole.

It has behind it what is called a "literary bureau," and an editor that is willwith "original" editorial articles, correspondence, selected articles, and we hear that in the west some newspapers that are willing to be subsidized have been guaranteed a profitable run of New York advertising.

In short, the money sharks not only have deep pockets but long arms, and they have in their employ some of the brightest newspaper writers of the east. These writers work outside of the Reform Club of Wall and William streets, and their work crops out in the most un expected places. Nothing is left undone to manufacture public opinion in behalf of the schemes of the gold speculators. Eastern newspaper readers are informed day after day that "the silver craze" is dying out. But behind all this bluffing the fact is clearly shown that a ma lority of the honest voters of both parties in New England and the eastern states are in favor of the immediate restoration of silver to its old place as a full legal tender money metal.

This fact, however, only nerves the agents of the gold sharks to greater exertions and to the concoction of more desperate lies and methods. These agents know that the democratic voters of Georgia are overwhelmingly in favor of the restoration of silver to the open mints of the country as the unit of account, but in spite of this, we have the spectacle of the Reform Club of William and Wall Streets trying to buy editors and subsidize editors, and we are told that Secretary Smith is to return and give the public a repetition of his great performance of denouncing the policy that he was in favor of in 1890. We do not think there is any objection to these tactics on the part of the people. We rather think that the people enjoy the spectacle of a man who wanted paper currency issued on non-perishable products attempting to pose as a "sound" money man.

Wages and Prices.

Every sensible man who will reflect over the great issue that is now under discussion, must inevitably perceive that the so-called "sound" money men are trying to keep down prices. The whole issue is one of prices, but there is a careful avoidance of that confession on the part of the money dealers. They say that a dollar which would buy only half as much as the present gold dollar would be a "depreciated" and a "dishonest" dollar; but they do not say that the gold dollar of 1873 was a "dishonest" dollar. Nevertheless, the gold dollar of 1873 would purchase not quite half as much as the "honest" dollar of 1895.

On another branch of the question

they tell wage earners that a rise in prices would not affect wages, and yet, before the ink is dry on their paper, we have a slight rise in prices and a corresponding rise in wages in some quarters; and the very men who denied that this would be the case are heralding the fact abroad, and claiming that it is a victory for the single gold standard. No matter what caused the recent slight rise in prices we should think that every intelligent workman would be able to perceive that it was accompanied by an immediate and corresponding rise in

Now the question arises, if a slight rise in prices is followed by an increase in wages, why would not a greater increase in prices result in a greater increase of wages We should like to see of the goldbug organs confound their logic by attempting to explain this.

Up to this time, only the producers of agricultural commodities have been compelled to meet the competition of silver using countries; but now our manufacturers are beginning to feel the effects of such competition, and it will be felt more keenly as the days go by unless the free coinage of silver gives them relief. The first symptoms of the results of this competition were seen recently in the efforts of the cotton mill men of New England to better their condition by moving their plants to the south or investing in mills already established. For those who have been wise enough to take this step there will be some recompense. If cotton mills anywhere in the world can compete with those of the silver using countries they are to be found in the south. But this is only a temporary condition. In the end the mills of the silver using countries will drive even the southern goods out of the markets of the world. This is inevitable, being in accordance with nat-

It is estimated that there is an average circulation of thirty-four per capita in this country the unlimited free produc tion of watermelons those of Georgia are maintained at par or at a slight premium. With watermelons as the fruit of final consumption, and with the Georgia peaches circulating as subsidiary eating, the peo ple of Georgia are paying very little at-tention to the question of free silver or money of final payment. Those of them who have anything to sell find that the money they get is good enough for The very fact that the people of Georgia have something to sell makes them all the more interested in the currency question. Under the good old bimetallic standard there was money in sending Georgia watermelons and peaches to market, but the blight of gold monomet allism strikes down this industry as it does everything else.

The falling prices caused by the demonetization of silver are disastrously felt by our fruit growers, as they are by every class of producers. At this end of the line our contemporary's sprightly paragraph falls flat.

Too Sensational and Extreme.

When Rev. Dr. Hawthorne arraigned certain alleged social evils and follies in his sermon last Sunday in the course of his attack upon female bicyclists and bloomers, he unfortunately made some very extreme and sweeping assertions about society in general, and what he was pleased to call "the circle of the 400." Among other things he said:

In the clubhouses of this city there are filthy-mouthed sensualists, covered with the scars of disgusting vices, who have the entree to the circle of the "400," and whose word is law to the giddy throng that would gibbet me for my advocacy of social chastity. It would be hard to find words more offensive and abusive, and unqualified. The stranger who heard them would have been justified in supposing that our society is under the control of a set of debauched lepers, and that the advocate of pure morals is actually in

Again the doctor said after he had paid his respects to the bicycle-bloomer combination:

There are men who sometimes come to ne under cover of night, or write to me tetters marked "personal" and "private," saying: "Sir—This modern Diana, called society, and before which thousands pros trate themselves, is horribly corrupt.
and my family belong to the idolatrous throng which worships there, and I know whereof I affirm. The social escapades broils, scandals and the drunkenness bling, forgeries, embezzlements and suicides which fill up the columns of our news papers are traceable to influences which emanate from a circle called 'society.
You are a true prophet of God and our only eliverance from this debauching and ruin ous domination is in the righteous audacity of such men.

Now, the inference from all this is that Dr. Hawthorne, as a "true prophet of God," is not mistaken, but is divinely inspired when he indorses the statement of a probably self-created and anony mous correspondent that "the social es capades, broils, scandals and the drunkenness, gambling, forgeries, embezzle ments and suicides which fill up the col umns of our newspapers are traceable to influences which emanate from a circle called society."

We heartly agree with the majority of our readers that the doctor is a fearless and sincere reformer; a man of brilliant intellect and exceptional eloquence and that he is in many lines of his chosen work a power for good. We admit this, and it is on this account that we regret to see him weaken his influence by using intemperate language which is calculated to inflame the ignorant, and leave the impression upon their minds that all society is in league with satan, and that to enter its gilded portals is to start upon a career of folly or sin and shame. Dr. Hawthorne seems to think that society is composed of only the idle, the frivolous and the vicious. On the contrary, it is composed of the good and the bad, but the former, ever since there was such a thing as society, have been steadily gaining the upper hand Wherever there is a circle in which the amenities of social intercourse and the "small, sweet courtesies of life" prevail, and where people make an effort to show their brighter and better sidewhere people are considerate and amiable

-where culture and refinement and con genial tastes draw men and women closer together, there society exists, and it may be found on the back streets, as well as on the most fashionable avenues

n the stately mansions of the rich. Doubtless, society on every street-in the circle of the 400 and in the wider circle of the 4,000-has its weaknesses and faults, but denunciation and abuse will not reform what needs reforming. For the doctor's sake, and for the sake of the cause he represents, we hope that he will see his way clear to a change in the methods of his crusade. His vio lent and sweeping charges will arouse anger and resentment and will only intensify the evils he complains of. A more conservative style of argument would be far more effective, when backed by zeal and facts. It is not necessary to make a wholesale attack upon society in order to reform a few fashions and customs which some people may think objectionable, and the chances are that such a mode of warfare will cause the victims of so much abuse to get together and organize a counter crusade under the impression that they are misrepresented and persecuted.

This is our view of the matter. Possibly it is a mistaken one, but we have tried to look at the situation from a rational and a dispassionate standpoint.

. Words, Words!

There is a contention among those who hang about the skirts of literature as to whether the coming novel is to contain 50,000 or 150,000 words.

Mr. Edward W. Bok, who knows as much about it as anybody in this round world, says that the novel of the future will contain 50,000 words, no more, no less. He says that women, who are the greatest novel readers, prefer 50,000 words, and this, of course, settles the matter.

This is a new standard of merit in any case, and it is hard to discover on what it is based. Nearly all the really great novels in the language run from 150,000 to 200,000, and some of the most successful of the modern novels run above a hundred thousand words.

It would be interesting to know on What Mr: Bok bases his judgment; and yet it would cease to be significant as soon as we knew it. For the success of a novel does not depend on its length. but on the power of the author to invest his characters with a living human interest.

That is the test after all, and it is a test that only genius can give. The little successes of the hour amount to nothing, and are not significant; but when success overlaps two or three generations we may know that there is something in a book besides the num-

An Unhappy Temperance Reformer.

Lady Henry Somerset is famous both in England and in this country as a temperance reformer.

There is no doubt about her sincerity and zeal, and people were naturally shocked a few days ago when they learned that she had authorized a hotel on her estate to sell liquor. The statement was disbelieved by many, but it turns out to be a fact.

Fortunately, for Lady Somerset a satisfactory explanation has been made. She is only a tenant for life, and she cannot carry out her ideas on an estate which does not absolutely belong to her. She at first refused to renew the liquor license, but the chancery courf held that she could not let her personal opinions influence her actions in her fiduciary capacity. So the license had to be revalue of the hotel lease would have been seriously affected if the prohibition policy had prevailed. Lady Somerset feels greatly mortified at being placed in the attitude of permitting the sale of liquor on her property, but the ruling of the court frees her from all responsibility, and she desires to have the matter thoroughly explained to the public. It is pretty rough on this gentle reformer to be forced by the law to do on her home estate just what she is earnestly advising others not to do. But the law has no consideration for the feelings of reformers.

A Man with a Future.

Fifty years ago Llew Llwyfo was a conspicuous figure in public life in Wales, and it was predicted that he would make an international reputation. The decades rolled on and the versatile Llwyfo seemed to make no headway. Still his admirers believed in him for some thirty or forty years, but after that time they became discouraged and ceased to talk of their favorite.

Several times during the last dozen rears the final disappearance of the brilliant Welshman from public life has been announced. Once his death was reported, and later it was said that he was a poor old wreck existing somewhere in great obscurity.

But the people were mistaken in Llwyfo. They did not appreciate his latent strength, his reserve force and the possibilities wrapped up in him. Last week the old man reappeared, to everybody's surprise, in first-class condition. bright and chipper as a boy. He was awarded the prize for an epic poem,

An American who saw a good deal of the political excitement in England during the recent elections, and who many of the meetings, says that Chamber-lain was the most interesting of the speak-ers. His composure on the platform in the face of insults undreamed of in American politics, was marvelous. "Judas!" "Rene-gade!" "Traitor!" "Toady!" "Villain!" the crowd shouted, but the worse the insult, the more virulent the abuse, the more the orator seemed to like it. He stood calmy before the mob, without a tremor, and though every sentence was interrupted with vilification, he went on to the end of his address with as much calmness as if he and been in the house of commons.

This is the suit involving a certain right of way which the Central railroad has been using for years and wnich the state claims as a part of the State road's property. The commission was appointed by an act of the last legislature, the Central railroad agreeing to submit the question at issue to such a body. Judge John L. Hopkins Atlanta, is chairman of the commission and the other members are: Hon. H. W. Hill, of Meriwether, and Hon. T. R. Jones,

The commission chose Mr. Mark McCord as its secretary.

The state is represented in the hearing by Hon. J. M. Terrell, attorney general, and by Mr. W. A. Wimbish, special attorney, who has charge of these cases involving the property of the State road. The Central is represented by Messrs. Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, N. J. & T. A. Hamond and Howell Erwin. The state claims that this property, which extends from the union depot beyond Forsyth street, belongs to it, through the deed given by Mitchell to the state, and that it has been used by the Central through sufferance. The Central claims that it has a good title to the property under a subsequent deed and sets up that even if it had not by deed, it has a good title by prescription, having had adverse possession of it for more than twenty

INSURANCE FALLING OFF. Fire Insurance Business Much Less

Than in Former Years. The insurance business in Atlanta for the last year has fallen off considerably than that of any other city in the south of equal population. The losses for the year from July 1, 1894, to June 30, 1895, amount to $284,211, while the premiums amount to $221,894. This shows a gain in are quite disastrous. It was considerably lower than the losses in Atlanta and for a city the size of Macon this is even more Gisastrous than for Atlanta.

A great decrease is shown over the state of Georgia in the insurance business and this has been a hard year for the many state agencies throughout the south. Several companies have withdrawn their agencies from Georgia within the last five or six months owing to the decrease in business. Captain Joyner's attention was business. Captain Joyner's attention called to the fact of the decrease and was

They are taking the majority of the risk themselves and put too much faith in the fire department."

GEN. YOUNG ON THE UNION.

Talks About the Report Concerning Guatemala and Costa Rien. One man in Georgia who felt a keen in terest in the dispatches which came from Guatemala yesterday was General P. M. B. Young, who is at home from his post as United States minister to Guatemala and Honduras on a leave of absence. The general's health has not been good, but under the healing influences that he finds at Sweetwater park and right here in At-

"Naturally," said the general, when asked by a representative of The Constitution for his views concerning the dispatches, "I have read with great interest what is said concerning the proposed union of the Cen-tral American republics. I believe that a large majority of the intelligent, patriotic citizens of Central America would like to see a union of all those republics. They believe that such a federation would be greatly to the advantage of each and all of them and at some time all of these govrnments have expressed themselves as in avor of such a union. Before any agreement can be reached, each must be willing to concede something, each must be willing to transfer certain of its powers to the feder-al government. They have never been able to agree upon a definite plan in the past. I believe that at this time all of the esidents of the Central American republics are patriotic, conservative men. The government of the United States has but one sentiment for these republics, and that is one of affection; it hopes and wishes that each of them shall be permitted to pursue its happiness in its own way, uninerrupted by foreign powers."

Their population is similar in character—that is, one state with the others; they have much the same soil and climate, and it would seem that they have a common destiny, Still it is, course, the policy of this government to hold hands off and wish them godspeed in the working out of their salvation in

Gus Stanton, a negro boy, who has been dealing with the police department and has been the defendant in several court cases, was placed in jail yesterda afternoon because he could not make a satisfactory bond for his appearance before the criminal branch of the city court.

The negro was given a preliminary hear-ing before Justice of the Peace Bloodworth, on the warrant charging him with entering the summer home of Reuben Arnold, at Hapeville, and stealing a pair of pants. Not only was the evidence overwhelming against the negro, but the stolen pants had been recovered and the theft traced directly to him. In default of bond, the boy was carried to jail.

GOVERNOR ATKINSON NOT SO WELL

The Hearing in the Gary Case Weakened Him Greatly- He Has Gone to Newnan for a Stay.

Captain T. E. Gary is no longer connected with the Georgia penitentiary in my capacity.

The hearing which grew out of the suicide of Porter Stocks was concluded yesterday and the governor's decision was adverse to the man who had charge of Minneola camp at the time of the Atlanta man's death. A Few Witnesses Examined.

The hearing was taken up at noon. Captain Bob Wright, the former assistant keeper of the penitentiary; Captain Jake Moore, the present incumbent of that position, and Captain J. W. English testified to the efficiency of Gary, after he himself had concluded his statement concerning the unfortunate suicide and the attendant circum-Captain Stocks was a witness. He said he thought Porter killed himself because he was found under the influence of liquor and in a fit of despondency. He had not thought of foul play while he was at the camp and did not think the investigation had shown any indication of it.

Then Colonel E. T. Shubrick, Gary's counsel, argued briefly in his behalf and then the governor announced his decision. In making his decision Governor Atkinson called attention to some of the peculiar ities of the Georgia penitentiary system. The captains were, he said, the only officers of the state in direct contact with the convicts and the necessity of their living up to the spirit and letter of the law as laid down was paramount. In his opinion Captain Gary had been guilty of the neglect charged and he ordered that the captain's commission be revoked.

Captain English and Hon. W. C. Glenn who was the attorney representing Colonel Stocks, asked that the governor do not put upon the man the extreme penalty of discharge. The governor declined, how ever, to reverse his decision. He said that he might at some time in the future consider an application for his reinstatement but not now.

Captain Gary has been connected with the penitentiary as an employe of the lessees for twelve or fifteen years and has always proven an efficient man. The rule which he is convicted of violat ing is No. 1 of the general rules laid down by the penitentiary department to the lessees, in which it is provided that no lessee or any of his employes shall allow "or permit convicts to go beyond prison bounds unless accompanied by sufficient guard."

If the captain was not himself response ble for the acts complained of, he was responsible for the violation of that portion of rule 19 which says:

"If the captains in charge of the camps fail to induce the lessees or their agents to correct abuses of the foregoing rules in any particular, it will be their duty to report the fact to the governor through the office of the principal keeper."

The Formal Order. The governor's formal order is as follows:

"After hearing the evidence submitted on the rule pending against T. E. Gary, whipping boss for pentientiary No. 2 at Mineola, and the argument of his counsel, it is gound that the said Gary has violated the penitentiary rules prescribed for the government of convicts therein confined, in his treatment especially of one Porter Stocks, who was frequently allowed to go beyond prison bounds unattended by guards; to have access to and handle firearms; to procure spirituous liquors and become intoxicated thereon, during one of which spells of intoxication he committed suicide; and 'n act requiring of said Stocks such hard labor as is contemplated by the law and the sentence

The Strain Too Much for Him. Governor Atkinson left yesterday after noon for Newnan. He came back from Warm Springs feeling quite strong, but the hearing in the Gary case has been too much for him, and he goes down to his old nome feeling not nearly so well as he did the first day he went to the capitol. His doctors have ordered that he take absolute rest and attempt to transact no business whatever. The governor realizes the importance of following this order, and he will not return to the capitol until he feels very much bet-

PENITENTIARY ROLES VIOLATED HIS ASSIGNMENT WAS SET ASIDE

And Captain J. B. Hollis Appointed Permanent Receiver.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES NOT KNOWN The Claim of $1,000 Against the Southern Express Company for the Coleman Swindle Among the Assets.

The gems of A. L. Delkin & Co., the well known Whitehall street jewelry firm, will sparkle in other hands. Yesterday at noon, while that store was crowded with the daily throng of sightseers ooking over the glittering array of gold and precious stones, interesting and sensational legal complications were transpiring the courthouse. Shortly 12 o'clock the firm made an assignment. All goods, chattels, claims and property of all kind were made over by the deed of assignment into the hands of H.

L. Jones, a clerk in Delkin's store. At 2 o'clock Mr. Walter R. Brown, attorney for northern creditors, appeared with a petition before Judge Richard Clark in chambers, acting for Judge Lumpkin, asking that the assignment be set aside and declared null and void, because this deed of assignment was not legally made out. Judge Clark read over the petition and in a few minutes had signed an order to the effect that the paper of assignment was illegal and a permanent receiver should be ap-

Captain J. B. Hollis was named as this receiver. He gave a bond of $5,000, closed the doors of the store and entered immediately into the work of taking an inventory of the firm's stock. There was the greatest surprise among the merchants of Whitehall street yesterday when it became known that Delkin had gone under, as it was supposed that his was one of the strongest firms in the city. For some years Mr. A. L. Delkin has been one of the most prominent jewelers, and his house bore a splendid reputation for fair dealing. But it was a much greater surprise to the merchants and to Mr. Delkin himself when it was learned that his deed of assignment had been declared void, his assignee displaced by the order of court, and a permanent receiver granted. Conveyed Everything. The deed of assignment is voluminous. Everything in the store is named and conveyed to H. L. Jones.

The diamons, watches, clocks, silver, gold, bills claims and all things were transferred to Mr. Jones, who, it was expected, would take charge of the store and pay off equally the claims of all creditors, dollar for dollar if the amount realized was sufficient.

This bill attributes the failure of Mr. Delkin to the stringency of the times. It is stated that the firm is in debt to such an extent that it would be impossible to pay out. The amount of liabilities, however, is press Company. This amounts to $1,000, and it tells the interesting story of "Diamond Charley," the famous crook who worked the southern jewelers some months ago. Delkin was a victim. It was he who received one of the letters from Swainsboro, signed J. C. Coleman, and stating that he had recently an idea of putting in a lot of goods and asked that a number of watches and diamonds be sent to him at once. Referring to Bradstreet's the jeweler found terring to Bradstreet's the jeweler found that Coleman was rated at a large amount, and thinking that there was no danger, shipped by the Southern Express Company a package containing jewelry valued at

The package was delivered to a n who represented himself to be Coleman by the agent of the company running between Midville and Swainsboro. At the same time several other packages were delivered com-ing from the other jewelers who had fallen victims to the scheme of this wily crook. Soon afterwards Coleman was up and away His capture was made in Quebec, and Cole-man was identified as a criminal with a huge record.

Suit was entered by the different firms against the Southern Express Company and it was this claim conveyed yesterday in the deed of assignment.

It is stated in this bill that the claim is considered good. Put in His Petition. This paper had been in the clerk's office scarcely an hour before the creditors began

Mr. Walter R. Brown, representing the firm of Jacob Strauss & Son, of New York, and French & Franklin, a well-known Massachusetts firm, appeared before Judge

Clark with a petition.

This petition stated that the firm of A.

L. Delkin & Co. was indebted to unknown parties in large amounts and would not be able to pay them when due; that if allowed time to liquidate the company could not cossibly meet outstanding indebtedness, and that the said company, realizing the of its insolvency and the great loss would accrue to all creditors in case each should proceed independently to collect the amounts due them, had undertaken to make

It is further alleged in this petition that this assignment was null and void and not in compliance with the laws of the state—in an compinance with the laws of the sate-in the first place, because there was not attached to the assignment any list of the creditors with the postoffice address and the amount due them, nor had the assignment been verified by any officer acting for the firm, as provided by section 7 of the act approved December 13, 1894.

The second paragraph of this petition approved December 13, 1894.

The second paragraph of this petition states that if the assignee be allowed to manage and control the said assets as he is directed to do in the assignment, no sale or disposal thereof would be legal or bind-

The petition also states that the creditors named do not know the names of other reditors, but begs to make them parties

The creditors pray that the assignment be declared void; that the assignee be en-joined from taking out or interfering with the goods and that a receiver be appointed. Captain Hollis Appointed. In his order granting the petition Judge Clark named J. B. Hollis as permanent re-ceiver and directed him to make bond of $5,000. He instructed the receiver to take $5,000. He instructed the receiver to take charge at once, take inventory and sell out at retail to satisfy creditors.

The petition with the order of Judge Clark attached was filed in the cierk's office at 2:19 o'clock.

The new receiver went to work immediately, All doors were closed and for the next fwo or three days he will be busy looking over the stock.

Mr. Delkin, who is a man of sturdy industry and indisputable integrity, attributes his fallure to slow collections and the general stringency. The loss because of the Coleman robbery also affected him ne little.

The Rathbun Blackberry.

James Vick's Sons, of Rochester, N. Y., are making a great success of the Rathbun blackberry, which is undoubtedly one of the finest of its species. The berry is of superior quality—in this respect surpassing all other varieties. It is rooted at the tips of the shoots, makes but few suckers, has excellent bearing capacity, and is remarkable for its large size and handsome appearance. No other variety of iblackberries commands so high a price in market. This berry originated on the farm of Mr. Alvin Rathbun in Chautauqua county, New York, and has been cultivated by him for several years. The plant is a strong, erect grower, and sends up a strong main stem, with many branches which curve over, bending downward, and in the season the tips touch the ground and take root, propagating like the blackcap raspberries. It is a hardy plant and stands cold weather without special injury. Its fruit is phenomenally large, luscious and handsome. This new berry is being rapidly introduced into various localities, where it gives great satisfaction. the chairman of the committee, Colonel W. A. All who have heard Mr. Moody preach are enthusiastic over his coming to the city. Every church in Atlanta should subscribe open to everybody, and the smaller churches as well as the larger ones, will be the beneficiaries of the campaign. Quite a number of subscriptions have al ready been received, but many more are needed. Every cent of the money ought to be raised without solicitation, and the people of Atlanta should respond liberally to the committee's call for help.

It would be a reproach to Atlanta's en-

REPORTED FOR THE CONSTITUTION

By Peeples and Stevens, Reporters for the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia.

Guarantee Company of North America v. East Rome Town Company et al. Before Judge Henry. Floyd superior court. Simmons, C. J.—1. Where stock of an incorporated company is pledged by the owner as collateral security for the payment of a debt, the pledgee is, as a general rule, entitled to collect and receive the dividends thereon, unless this right is reserved by the pledgor at the time the pledge is made. 2. If the company by which the stock was issued with notice of the fact that the pledge has been made, pays the dividends to the pledgor, it is, ordinarily, liable to the pledge for such dividends, although the stock has not been actually transferred on the books of the company.

3. Where the president, secretary and to the pledgor, it is, ordinarily, liable to the pledgee for such dividends, although the stock has not been actually transferred on the books of the company.

3. Where the president, secretary and treasurer of an incorporated company actually know that certain shares of stock therein have been transferred by the person in whose name the stock stands on the company's books to another, such knowledge is notice to the corporation itself.

4. As a general rule it is the right and duty of a pledgee to whom stock has been pledged as collateral security, to collect and receive for the use of the pledgor, dividends accruing upon the stock pending the bailment, although the debt secured by the pledge may, after such accrual, have been fully paid off by an actual payment of the stock; and in an action by the pledgee against the company for such dividends so accruing, the company will be liable, unless it shows that it has in fact paid the dividends to the pledgor. The above general rule may, for equitable reasons be subject to exceptions in particular cases.

Lumpkin, J.—1. A demurrer to an equitable petition, on the ground that it "has not all the proper parties to it." is defective in that the demurrer falls to state the name of any person who should be made a party.

2. Upon the facts alleged there was no misjoinder of parties, and the plaintiff's petition was not multifarious. There was equity in the petition and it was error to dismiss it as to some of the defendants, and as to another defendants to dissolve the restraining order previously granted, and, without hearing evidence, to refuse the injunction prayed for, on the ground that the petition was without equity.

suit even for gross errors of judgment committed in making such contracts.

2. It appearing from the evidence that though the ordinary improperly let out contracts for building and preparing certain public bridges, and paid the contractor for the same in advance of his doing the work, yet, as it also appears that the work was finally done by the contractor substantially in compliance with his contracts, and that he tendered the bonds required by law for keeping the bridges in repair, he was not liable in an action by the county, brought at the instance of the successor in office of the ordinary with whom he had contracted, for the money received from the latter. This is so, although in the opinion of some of the witnesses the prices paid were too high. In this matter the judgment of the ordinary who made the contracts was, under the facts, final.

Lumpkin, J.-1. It is competent for a judge of the superior court, in order to facilitate the transaction of business, to set cases for trial on particular days; and, in this connection, to adopt a rule of practice making it incumbent upon every party to notify his witnesses of the day upon which his case is set for trial. In a court where such a rule prevails, a party who does not comply with this requirement is not entitled, as matter of right, to a continuance because of the absence of a material witness who, though he had previously been duly subpoenaed, had not been notified upon what day his attendance would be necessary.

Neal, 10 Ga. 148, the real meaning of which is stated in Corniff v. Cook, last term.

3. The evidence being conflicting upon the main questions of fact involved, and the verdict being sufficiently supported; and no material error (if any at all) having been committed, this court will not control the discretion of the trial judge in refusing to grant a new trial.

Inasmuch, however, as the law allows all persons interested, including creditors of the decedent, when the return of the commissioners to assign dower is made, to enter a traverse to the same, they may, in the exercise of this right, then have an issue made up and tried, and thus have all their objections to the return, or to the allowance of dower, passed upon; but if they fail to avail themselves of this right at the proper time, and, without objection of any kind, allow the return of the commissioners to be made the final judgment of the superior court, they are (in the absence of actual fraud on the part of, or of collusion between the widow and the administrator) bound by such judgment, whether they had notice of its rendition or not, and notwithstanding there may have been gross irregularities in the proceedings upon which it was founded.

"Jimmy" Logue-A Born Criminal.

From The Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Mary Logue, the terrified wife of a drunkard and the penitent mother of a thief, is likely to become fan ous all over the world. She is dead, but a letter left by her is one of the most remarkable contri-butions to the pathology of crime found in the annals. This peer mother acknowledges herself responsible for her son's r oral perversity. He has lived a life of wrong-doing, and his mother ascribes it to ante-natal influences. She says:

"I found it very hard to get any money from my husband for our bread and meat. At last it got so hard that the only way I could get his money was by waiting until he was asleep at night and picking his pockets. Many and many a night have I got up when he was asleep and taken what moreyI found there. Then he had a hot temper, and I was always afraid when I was picking his pockets he would awake and find me doing it. Thus I went through all the brain sensations of a daring bur-glar, even such as I am informed you have become. Shortly after that you were born, and I firmly believe that you came into the world a thief owing to that crime-like,

though necessary, practice of mine."

She signs herself "your affectionate mother." The intelligence, gentleness and affectionateness shown by the letter are proof conclusive that in her a good woman was wrecked. Her warning will be little heedwrecked. Her warning will be little heed-ed; there is small hope of a very general reformation; but the letter suggests grave considerations ir. penology. If prevention of such causes may not be had, the consequences may have to be met by perhaps less severe punishment, but an extension of the scope of institutions for the care of hereditary criminals.

Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie wrote a charming article on the "creole kitchen" in The Pittsburg Press, and pays the following tribute to an Atlanta woman:

"It is to one of the brightest women of the exposition work, Mrs. Edward Barnes, that the management of the exposition is indebted for much valuable assistance. Her help and inspiration have carried the plans through many difficulties to a com-pletion that surpasses the brightest antici-pations of even those enthusiastic women of the south who place their hopes for anything about the exposition on a very

"Mrs. Barnes is the wife of a prominent railroad official, Mr. Edward Barnes. She is a really very handsome woman, tail, with superb figure and dazzling white skin, set off by exceedingly black hair. Besides being beautiful, she is highly talented; the combination making her irresistible, since her mind is a thoroughly delightful all-round developed one, not thrusting itself out in any one direction to the detriment of other lines, as is so often the case with clever people; thus everybody finds in her congeniality. She is clever with her pen, and has written verses for Harper's and other standard periodicals, likewise she is remarkably fine in the drama. It is but a short time ago she took the leading part in 'Young Mrs. Winthrop,' which was the most successfully presented amateur play ever given in Atlanta, and the greatest of praise was accorded Mrs. Barnes. Certainly it goes without saying that before her marriage, as Alline Bostick, she was a great belle in the south, and knowing these attributes nobody will be surprised at the enormous assistance she has been in more ways than one to the board of managers of the exposition

"It was several months ago that a few prominent society women in Atlanta connected with the 'ways and means' depart-ment of the exposition, conceived the idea of operating a restaurant during the three months of the exposition. Mrs. Barnes whose bright brain had been at work, ask d for time to write to Mr. and Mrs. William Austell, wealthy property owners in Austell, Ga., for a contribution in logs, and, if successful, to build a log house in typical Georgia style, and call it a 'creole kitchen.' communicated with Mr. Ausnd he replied at once, inviting her to come up to his beautiful country seat, near the Sweetwater creek, one of the most pic-turesque wooded streams in Georgia, and make a selection of the pine logs she desired, agreeing, generously, to cut and de-liver them for her committee in Atlanta. When this good news was received the women went to work with a will. Mr. Downing, the young and talented architect of the fine arts building, was called upon by Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Hugh Hagan about drawing plans, and he gracefully of-fered to do that gratis to assist them in

"President and Mrs. Grover Cleveland are to be given a breakfast in the 'creole kitchen' the day after their arrival at the exposition

Happy Days at the White.

White Sulphur, August 5 .- (Special Correspondence.)-Card parties have been the order of the past week for the married people, and bowling, driving and dancing the young. A charming bowling party was given by a party of young men to a number of young ladies, which was chap-eroned by the levely young matron who will next winter grace the position of a United States senator's wife, Mrs. Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia. The prizes were six in number and very handsome. They Were taken by Misses Carrie Reinhardt were taken by Misses Carrie Reinhardt and May Waring, of Plainfield, N. J.; Grace Beston, Mobile. Ala.; Gertrude Camm, of Richmond, Va., and Lucile Fuller, of Washington. Refreshments were served after the game.

A delightful euchre party was given on Monday morning by Mrs. George T. M. Gibson, of Baltimore, at which the first prize, a handsome vase, was taken by Mrs. John F. Winslow, Cincinnati, O. The second an embroidered pin cushion in linen and gold satin, was taken by Mrs. Thomas H. Carter, Washington, D. The Virginia State Bar Association will nvene on Tuesday, August 6th, which will be opened by an address by Mr. Charles M. Biackford, president of the as-sociation. The annual oration will be desociation. The annual oration will be de-diversed by Judge Roger A. Pryor, of New York, on Wednesday morning. Papers will be read on legal subjects by Messrs. George Perkins, Charlottesville, Va., and George Perkins, Charlottesville, Va., and R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax, Va., upon "The Lawyer's Place Among Men" and "Some Views of Crim'nal Procedure." The grand banquet will take place on Thursday evening and the toasts will be answered by men of talent from Virginia and other states.

The meeting of the bar association is always an occasion of great pleasure at the White Sulphur. About 250 of the most gifted men and women of Virginia gather here for the renewal of pleasures and friendly interchange of good will. Among the welcome guests are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knowles, of Atlanta, who occupy a cottage in Baltimore row. They will add much to the pleasure of the season at the White, as they have done for many years. In their party are Cap-tain and Mrs. R. J. Lowry, Miss Maude and Mr. Thomas B. Paine. The latter is a great favorite here.

Among the late arrivals are: Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dickson and family, Norfolk, Va.; Morton M. Cassedy and wife, Louis-ville, Ky.; Mrs. John Alexander Preston, Miss Preston, Robert Ludlow Preston, Charles C. Dennison, Baltimore, Md.; Miss Sally Bruce, Virginia; J. B. Miss Mary Frances Winship and Miss Lucile King complimented Miss Heien Chears and Miss Margaret Kirbin, two sweet young girls from Columbus who are visiting Miss Clara Belle Rushton, on Washington street, with a most enjoyable car ride Friday evening last.

Mr. Ernest Woodruff, who knows how to handle a thing of this kind to perfection, left nothing undone to make this one of the most pleasant of the many car rides that have been given by the young people of In-man Park this season. The car was beau-tifully decorated with incandescent lights and attracted a great deal of attention as it glided out Whitehall street to West End, around the mine-mile circle to Ponce de Leon springs, and returning via Peachtree street, thence to Decatur and return. It would be hard to conceive of a more delightful way of spending a summer night than on one of these moonlight excursions to the many de-lightful suburbs of Atlanta, where Dame Nature has ever an ample supply of the elixir of life-that pure, unadulterated air that one inhales here as nowhere else and in no other way. There were about thirty young people in the party, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bates and Mr. and Mrs.

George King. Will Go to New York.

Mrs. Mary E. Bryan came in on the Southern vestibule yesterday afternoon from New York, where she has been for the past six weeks. While making New York her headquarters she has spent a great deal of her time most delightfully in visiting different resorts, where she was entertained by friends. "While in New York," said Mrs. Bryan, "While in New York," said Mrs. Bryan,

Miss Elizabeth Eve, the bright and charming daughter of the celebrated surgeon, Dr. Duncan Eve, of Nashville, Tenn., has been spending a month at Lithla Springs. Miss Eve is not yet one of Nashville's fair socie-ty girls, but her entrance in Nashville's smart set next winter is locked forward to with a great deal of pleasure. Dr. Eve has a palatial home on Vine street and the cepitable doors will be thrown open a great deal next winter. The debut party in great deal next winter. The debut party in the fall will be one of the social events of the season. Miss Eve is a splendid type of southern beauty. She is a tall brunette, with dark violet eyes. She was a great belle during her sojourn at Lithia. She will be in Atlanta for a few days. She then goes to Lookout for the remainder of the summer.

Miss Eva Hodges returned yesterday after a delightful visit to her friend, Miss Pearl Bridges, at her beautiful home at Ellaville, Ga. She will now join her mother at their country home near Norcross.

Mrs. Dora Adams Hopkins has returned from Warm Springs and Columbus, where she has spent some time.

The dance to be given this evening by the T. E. F. Club, at Lakewood park, promises to be one of the most delightful of the season. The T. E. F. Club is strictly a secial club, and although in its infancy, is cno of the most promising clubs of its kind in the city. Among its members are numbered some of Atlanta's most popular young peo-ple. The club's membership is limited to thirty. Quite a number outside of the club have received invitations to attend tonight, and a delightful affair is expected.

Misses Manette Leigh and Ella Pope, who have been at St. Simon's and Newnan, are now in Marietta.

Miss Ivy Tillinghast, of West End, has gone on a visit to friends at Clemson, S. C. Mrs. E. A. St. Amand and her charming daughters, Erline and Vita, from Charles-ton, S. C., are the guests of her cousin, Mrs.

Madison, Ga., August 4.—(Special.)—Miss-es Poullain entertained a number of their friends Wednesday evening, complimentary of Annie W. Rowland, of Augusta. Their elegant home was brilliantly illuminated and was decorated with choiest flowers. The scene was a beautiful one and the as-semblage brilliant in every respect. Elegant refreshments were served and the occasion was one of rare pleasure.

Misses Florence Reid and Florence Talbot, of Eatonton, are guests of Mrs. A. G. Foster, at her delightful home on "the hill" No more charming young ladies than these can be found in Georgia, and they are just now the recipients of many attentions from now the recipients our young people.

Miss Maude Gilbert, one of Albany's sweetest young ladies, is a charming guest of Miss Sadie Foster. A delightful enter-tainment was given in her honor Tuesday evening.

EXTINGUISHING THE RACE.

A Woman Writes Dr. Hawthorne That Bicycles Mean No Bables.

Rev. J. B. Hawthorne received yesterday a letter from the president of the Woman's Rescue League of Boston inclosing a series of resolutions which were adopted some time ago by the league in opposition to female bicycle riding.

The resolutions were inclosed in a personal letter from Charlotte Smith, the president of the league, and in that letter she went somewhat more into details in opposition to bleycle riding than might be inferred from the resolutions following.

The truth is, that President Smith takes the position that the use of bicycles by females is a campaign against the human race and that as the vice grows the ratio of increase of the human family will pro-portionally fall. Mrs. Smith makes herself very clear on this and other points in her letter to Dr. Hawthorne and praises him for the work he is doing against the "per-sonal devil" and the bicycle.

The resolutions referred to are as folat their last regular meeting, passed the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The bicycle woman and the coming 'mannish woman' are productive of much harm, and no real good to the industricus and self-respecting women who create 80 per cent of the wealth in all the light manufacturing industries in this country. These women are entitled to political recognition by our law-makers because they help create the wealth of the nation, while the 'sporting woman,' the 'mannish woman' and the 'bicycle woman' brings disgrace on the true womanly woman. And, be it "Resolved, 'That the Woman's Rescue League condemns bicycle riding by young girls and women for the following reasons: Thirty per cent of the 'fast girls' that have come to the Rescue League for aid were bicycle riders at one time, and be it "Resolved, That since the closing up of the houses of ill repute in Boston the 'sporting girl' and 'fast girl' are taking to bicycle riding because they can better ply their vocation on account of the 'opportunities' given them as cyclists, and, be it "Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to the prominent clergy of the United States calling zitention to the suppression of bicycle riding by young girls because of the tendency to encourage immorality, and, be it "Further Resolved, That the Woman's Rescue League condemns the coming 'mannish woman' as a creature entirely useless and an unnecessary evil in this country, which should neither be tolerated nor encouraged. HINTS FOR THE SICK.

An All-Important Question Answered.

THE BEST NONE TOO GOOD. Cheap Doctors and Patent Medicines Kill More People Than the Most Successful Practitioners Cure.

Successful Practitioners Cure.

The great question with sick folks is—what doctor to go to? It is, indeed, the vital and chief question. The true physician, with his science, his instruments and his remedies, is as a minister of humanity and kindness, while the false physician may be more dangerous to his patient than the disease he pretends to treat. But it would seems nowadays as though there were no calling in life where there is so much of sham and humbug, of smooth roguery and heartless imposition, as in that of medicine. None of the other learned professions is so disgraced with pretenders and imposters. But there is no feason why any one should become their dupes and victims of our more vulgar bunko steerers and three-card monte nien. In matters of sickness, as in matters of business, we should be on our guard. We have physicians enough in Atlanta, known by long years of faithful and honorable service, to care for all the cases of sickness among us. If you are a sufferer from chronic disease we have Dr. Hathaway & Co., specialists, at 22½ South Broad street. In the treatment of catarrh, private, skin and nervous diseases, and all that class of chronic allments, no other medical firm in the world has had larger experience or achieved wider fame than Dr. Hathaway & Co. It is through their own patients that the public is constantly hearing of their splendid work.

Pearl Lake is only thirty-nine miles from Atlanta—one hour's ride—and is situated in a beautiful grove of large oaks, the surrounding lands beautifully covered with grass. The lake of clear spring water covers thirteen acres, has boathouses and row-boats and is also stocked with game fish. Fishing, boat riding and bathing are all free to the excursionist, thus offering to the pleasure seeker for a day's outing one of the most attractive spots in middle Georgia. These grounds are kept in most beautiful order. A new and large pavillon, 40x80 feet, has been recently erected, thus adding another to the many ettractions of this place.

New York, August 5 .- Only 137,018 share of stocks were traded in at the stock exchange today. The trading was narrow and professional throughout. Chicago Gas was the only stock on the list that showed any life, but the advance from 571/2 to 59 attributable to covering of shorts put out after the defeat of the frontage bill by the Illinois legislature. Sugar, the next most active stock, figured for 22,100 shares. Transactions were made at 114@115% and 1134@1144. The Grangers, trunk lines and 1134@11446. The Grangers, trunk lines and anthracite coalers were quiet and without special change. Erie sold down to 84 on the announcement that the forthcoming reorganization plan will provide for a heavy assessment on the stock. It is also understood that the junior bonds will be scaled. The talk about gold shipments checked operations. The withdrawal of $150,000 gold from the subtreasury, it was said was the forestruet of heavy ship. said, was the forerunner of heavy ship-ments later in the week. Early Morning Gossip. New York News Bureau, by private Wire to J. C. Knox, manager.—Every one in Wall street admits the stock market shows wonderful strength; in fact, the strongest testimony to this effect comes from the short interest, which has been at a disadvantage for some time. The stability of prices in the face of last Week's 6 per cent break in Sugar, occurring as it did coincidentally with a renewal of gold exports, is pointed to as evidence of the great firmness in values. There is no heavy selling pressure and many brokers believe that the short interest has recently been increased. The control of prices still seems to rest with the bull cliques, and it is rather the general expectation that these interests will exert their power at frequent intervals to rally of shorts. bull faction is helped by the common belief that the government bond syndicate will sustain the treasury reserve until Oc-tober. (Money continues remarkably easy tober. Money continues remarkably and the favorable advices as to the crop supply ammunition which the bulls use freely every day in the week. It is believed in well informed banking circles that the street will soon begin to discuss the question of gold exports in a reasonable manner, abandoning the hope that the bond syndicate will attempt to ob-struct the natural operations of trade. Ir-respective of this point conservative people are urging upon too sanguine operators these blemishes in the situation which must be dealt with from a common sense standpoint if the possibility of harm to market values is to be reduced. With the Grangers 20 per cent above the low level of 1895 it is not considered out of place to remember that hot winds and early autumn frosts are still possibilities which may, before the corn harvest, reduce the extravagant estimates now commonly made. The probable shortage of 70,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels in the country's wheat crop is also receiving consideration from conservative people, especially as the shortage largely falls upon part of the crop which the railroads expect to move to market early. The present remarkably light movement of grain may result in causing disappointment to operators who expect railway earnings to show flattering results from now on.

As reports of earnings of Chicago Gas come in they continue to show gains, which is causing people here identified with the company to take a more hopeful view of the company's outlook. The absence of reports with respect to the attorney general's intentions gives them increased confidence.

Financial Gossip.

From The New York Stockholder.
Quite a vigorous effort has been made to precipitate a decline in prices. On top of the market have been the bear, the sold out buil, the gold shipments. Yet prices have receded but slightly. Nor is any serious decline or significant liquidation apt to occur while the country is on the improve and all signs point to continued recovery.

to occur while the country is on the improve and all signs point to continued recovery.

It may be asked what is there to prevent a sharp fall in securities from their present level? The reply is 2,500,000,000 bushels of ocrn and 200,000,000 bushels of spring wheat. These enormous crops are now practically assured. Their gathering means to the railroads and the industries more than a year of substantial prosperity, good wages, better transportation rates. What is there in these facts and conditions to cause a shrinkage in values?

Rather are they the best foundations for a healthy market, and we believe that they justify purchases on every concession. That prominent interests take that position is evident from the fact that not a few of those which were inactive six months ago are now strong factors in the market—some of them for the first time in several years. Merely to illustrate we may cite the case of R. P. Flower & Co.

That wealthy and influential house, idle and waiting during the period of distrust and uncertainty, is now active. The clientele it represents in the west includes capitalists of the caliber and abilities of which Mr. H. H. Porter is a conspicuous type. Such interests would not be conducting operations at the stock exchange if conditions were not ripe and circumstances auspicious.

conditions were not ripe and circumstances auspicious.

Among the stocks which will do to buy when weak is Sugar. There may occur, for speculative reasons, such as the shaking out of some long line weakly held, sharp declines, but being a 12 per cent stock in a 1 per cent money market. Sugar on such declines should be a purchase.

Chicago Gas is a purchase at present prices to buy and hold. In that stock the declines will be temporary and based on wild rumors designed to make timid holders sell. The company's difficulties are legal and will be overcome. Does any sensible person suppose that when that fact is consummated Gas will be selling on its present mon-dividend basis, in the 50s? We predict it will then sell in the 70s or the 80s.

Though at present money being 1 per cent on a non-dividend level, it is interesting to know that the Chicago Gas companies are earning dividends of over 5 per cent on the stock, and that business is excellent. Under these circumstances is it any wonder that the interests best acquainted with the property's intrinsic value and possibilities are accumulating the stock that represents it?

der that the interests best acquainted with the property's intrinsic value and possibilities are accumulating the stock that represents it?

Rock Island should be bought on concessions. It has fine crops, It was the first of the Grangers to cut down dividends. It never cut down expenses. Among the solvent low-priced stocks and purchases on consessions are Missouri Pacific. Great crops in Missouri and Kansas are the bull arguments on it. Southern Rallway preferred, Kansas and Texas preferred, Wabash preferred and Wheeling and Lake Erie are also on the improve, and should be a purchase around present quotations.

It is remarked of the Coalers that not-withstanding all the bearish talk about trade and the hopeless situation, they were the steadlest, if dullest, stocks in the little flurry of Friday. Reading was especially steady. The trade is at its worst. Stove coal is $2.65 a ton to the dealer, about a dollar less than a year ago. The price is ruinous. Every commodity has risen but coal. Every industry has revived but anthracite. The prices of the shares say that it will not be long the sole exception.

Business throughout the country, barring some sections of the west, which are waiting for the crops, is of unusually large volume for this season of the year. Rallroads are beginning to buy more freely of fron and steel as corn and wheat mature. Hence the iron industry is very prosperous, Merchanis also increase purchases as an abundant harvest approaches, and various trades are thereby benefited. All of which bank exchanges distinctly reflect.

Last week's total—$69,000,000—is 20 per cent larger than a year ago. Not only that—it practically equals the volume of clearings are decidedly the best evidence of returning prosperity. Earnings have not caught up to them, but that will come later. The gross earnings of the raliroads the third week in July increased $75,000.

Exchange ended strong at ton quotations for the year, 4,904 for demand. Imports of dry goods and general merchandise were considerably smaller. $9,1

Daniel O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager.

New York, August 5.—News from the south today was mostly of a bullish nature, causing a strong market. From Selma, Ala., we are advised that the Southern Railway Company estimates the probable yield of cotton w'ill be 20 per cent less than last year in the territory traversed by their road. Worms have sopeared in parts of Louisiana and near Rosedale and Greenville, Miss., and parts green is being used to exterminate them. It is ra'ning at Austin and Waco. Spot cotton in the south is firm, and at a number of points, including New Orleans, is quoted 1-16c higher today. There was also a further advance of 1.16c in this market with spot sales of 5.520 bales. One of our representatives, who has traveled extensively through the cotton growing region during the past month, believes the crop will be an average one with ordinary conditions from new on, as the plant is looking very well, though he believes there has been 10 per cent reduction in acreage. First prices here were up 163 Jonits and the market continued to rise until 10 ctober sold at 7.11, a gain of about 9 points. Then followed a reaction Daniel O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Hubbard Bros. and Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, August 5.—The bank holiday in Liverpool lasts until Wednesday. On the opening buying ofders were evident in the market and in the disposition of sellers prices advanced some 3 points on the call. The demand was mainly for October. After the opening October, which had sold at 7.04, advanced to 7.10 with a growing demand as prices became higher. Operators in Wall street have agan been buyers and the trade is somewhat surprised at the virility of the market. For the time being the bear element is decidedly in disfavor. In addition to outside local buying New Orleans has sent orders during the forenoon based upon poor crop reports from Texas. The weather generally was clear. Visitors here from the south say that the crop is backward and small, and hence peculiarly susceptible to any adverse influences. A telegram from New Orleans says that Navasota, Tex., reports the crop failing in that locality. At midday the market is steady and slightly easier with 7.08 bid for October. Spinners' demand has been checked by the advance in futures. At the higher prices (October 7.10) the market appeared over-bought and liquidation of the purchases during the afternoon caused the reaction to 7.05, at which price the market closed. The trading of the day has been largely local. Four days' rain are reported at Waco, Tex.; worms and damage at Croonville and Rosedale, Miss. Waco reports the first bale received. Spot cotton is reported as firm at 73.16c, last 615-16c. Sales 1,350. The largest stock of unsold cotton since 1892 is now held here. Hubbard Bros. and Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, August 5.—Liverpool being closed until Wednesday next for the bank holdays, the crop accounts today furnished the only influence to affect our market. These, as a whole, were unsatisfactory, and the improvement of Saturday last was continued. October opened 2 points higher at 7.08 and gradually advanced to 7.11. During the forenoon and most of the afternoon hours the demand was good and the tone firm, but in the last half-hour there was heavy selling to take profits and a recession of half a dozen points took place. The close was quiet and steady with October at 7.05@7.06. There is a feeling of quiet confidence among the bulls, and at the close today most of the shrewdest operators here were buying cotton. After the close traders were vainly bidding 7.07 for October.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, August 5.—Cotton advanced 9 to 10 points, then receded and closed 3 to 5 points higher for the day with sales of 255,000 bales. Liverpool will be closed antil Wednesday owing to the bank holidays. New Orleans advanced 11 points and lost about haif of this later on. Spot cotton here was 1-16c higher with direct shipments to Europe of 1,350 bales and sales to American spinners of 770 bales. Middling uplands 73-16c. The rainfall for forty-e-ght hours included 2.02 at Wilmington, N. C.; 2.25 at Lafayette, La; 2.23 at Kingstree, S. C.; 2 inches at St. George, S. C.; 2.80 at Allendale and 2.42 at Waynesboro, Ga. Very heavy precipitation in South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana. The ports received altogether 408, against $27$ this day last week and 712 last year.

Today's Features.—The weather news favored the bulls. A very heavy rainfall was reported where, as a rule, it was not wanted either. In other words, Texas was dry, though rain is needed there, and a heavy precipitation was reported in parts of the Carolinas, Alabama and Louisiana, where, as everybody knows, fair weather is needed, as a rule, to give plants, a chance to clean the crop. Besides the bad weather news, unfavorable crop reports from private sources are being received. The crop is certainly backward, whatever may be said as to its ultimate size, and shorts were nervous and bought quite freely, while Liverpool was also understood to be buying on a liberal scale, and, as to the spot trade, that was brisk, both foreign and domestic consumption. So it was a bull day in all things. Toward the close there was more or less realizing and as the triding in the main was for local account prices reacted, though it is to be remembered that they have made a substantial net gain within four or five days. Friends of cotton are not hard to find.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Higher, While Corn, Oats and

Wheat Higher, While Corn, Oats and Provision Are Lower.

Chicago, August 5.—To export or not to export, is the question in the wheat market at the present time. The trade in a general way knows that the winter wheat crop is a short one. It is also aware that the northwest is reaping a bountiful harvest and that with another week or ten days of favorable conditions an unusually large yield will be assured, but whether foreigners are going to look to our market for more than ordinary quantities to replenish depleted stocks or not, is quite another matter. This phase of the situation governs prices at present. On Saturday 100,000 bushels were taken at this point for shipment abroad and today there was a sale of 75,000 bushels. These two nibbles had a firming effect today, but the purchases were not large enough to excite serious comment or lead to a radical upturn. Baltimore was reported to have sold twelve loads, but the statement lacked confirmation. The opening was firm with local traders buying a little and commission houses having orders on the outside. This is a holiday in England and consequently there were no Liverpool or London cables. The visible supply dicreased 72,000 bushels and a report from New York stated that the amount on ocean passage would show a reduction of 2,000,000 bushels. September wheat opened from $36,000,000 bushels. September than Saturday. Cash wheat was irregular. Prices ranged from 1 cent lower to 1 cent higher, closing firm.

Corn—Nothing could be urged with force enough to even the depression consequent upon the advent of a crop that surpasses anything previous known. Shorts in September do not expect to benefit directly by the enormous yield, but through the weak news of the distant futures the near-by are inclined to droop. The visible supply decreased 542,000 bushels, and the amount on ocean passage 180,000 bushels. New York was authority for the latter report. September corn opened at 41%c, sold between 41% and 40½c, closing at 410-%6%c under Saturday. Cash corn was weak and %c lower, closing firmer.

Oats—Trade was dull in oats, the decline in corn exercising a weakening force. The little trading that took place was on local account with no influential or important action noticeable. The visible supply decreased 1,12,000 bushels. September oats closed %c under Saturday. Cash oats were quiet and steady.

Provisions—There was firmness of brief duration in provisions at the opening. Higher prices were quoted on hogs and that, with the better feeling in wheat, acted favorably on the tone. Traders beught too much, and upon reflection decided that corn had a more important bearing on product than wheat, upon which they tried to dispose of their holdings, but were obliged to do so at a sacrifice. At the close September pork was 22½c lower than Saturday. Sertember land 21½c lower Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. Chicago, August 5.—Holders of wheat have been held in obeyance this morning. News has been of a most encouraging kind for an advance, but the continued light speculative trade has, during most of the session, operated against any substantial rise, and the market has been a largely scalping affair. The reported export business at Baltimore Saturday was given credence here, and together with light receipts caused a firm opening. There was a subsequent advance of a cent per bushel, but buying orders were not voluminous enough to sustain this rise, and to iselling by scalpers, who had bought early, prices receded to initial quotations. During the last half-hour there was an advance again of a cent per bushel on a decrease of 712,000 bushels in the visible supply, but more particularly on the strong closing continental cables. Antwerp and Berlin being about %c and Paris 21-3 to nearly 4½ higher. This strength abroad is said to be on account of the weather conditions. There was also a good cash business reported, 75,000 bushels said to be sold to go to New York. The entire advance did not hold, however, the market being so narrow. Weakness in coarse grains also had an influence on wheat. Clearances amounted to about 221,000 bushels all told. Argentine shipments were light at only 99,000 bushels.

Notwithstanding a good cash and export demand for corn that cereal has been weak the entire session, crop prospects being the governing influence. Secretary Coburn, of the Kansas board of agriculture, estimates that the yield of corn in that state will be 385,000,000 bushels, against 300,000,000 in 1889, the banner crop year, when so much was reported a used for fuel. It is quite possible that the feeling is so very bearish that a large short interest is being accumulated, and the market being narrow an attempt to cover any very large lines would cause a quick advance. However, we do not look for any substantial reaction to be maintained under present January...... 5 3736 5 3736 5 35 5 35 Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

The Cereal Situation.

From The New York Steckholder.

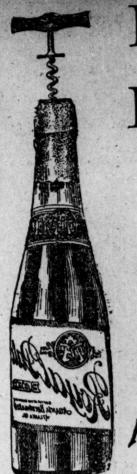

Wheat holders had a discouraging week. They saw prices go against them even with some legitimate conditions more favorable to the long side than week before last. The great bull argument was the light receipts at winter points, Detriot, St. Louis, Chicago and Toledo. Looking at these paitry arrivals each day, one might suppose that no winter wheat was raised. They were the smallest in years. That they accurately denoted the size of the crop is unlikely. The chances are the movement will increase, that it has been delayed by farmers holding back their product for better prices and by unfavorable weather. We predict an increase the present week, and believe that from now on the movement will compare more favorably with 1894 than at any time since it began, There was one other bullish development—somefalling off in exports from principal countries. Here is a table showing these shipments for the poset three weeks. The Cereal Situation.

	Exports	Exports	Exports
	iast		k end'g
	week.	before.	July 10.
United States.	. 1,265,000	1,652,000	2,317,000
India	. 480,000	744,000	1,248,000
Argentina	680,000	416,000	700,000
Russia	.2,240,000	3,040,000	3,280,000

It will be observed that, as compared with the shipments of three weeks ago, there was a falling off last week (ended July 29th) of about 3,000,000 bushels. The principal reduction was from Russia. As compared with three weeks ago all countries decreased materially except Argentina. Of course, if the falling off should continue it would help prices; but foreign houses are very skeptical as to talk of small exports from countries like Russia, Argentina and India. Russia has a large crop practically assured, and Argentina's crop is doing well. No wonder then that the foreign markets bull hard. The following compares western crops last week with those of week before and the corresponding period a year ago:

it was 662,000,000. This year more oats have been grown than ever before. The crop has been underestimated and is even larger than in 1889. How oats can long maintain their present level is difficult to see. We believe they will sell under 20 cents in Chicago. The corn situation is a substantial bear argument on provisions, the bunko market, and good judges believe that those products are a sale on every rally, though of course the market is made by the men who make the product, and it is dangerous to play in that kind of a game.

OF GEORGIA PINE.

Illinois Building at the Exposition To Be The Gates of the Exposition Will Be The Police Raid a Dive and Bag That The Lightning Corner Organization Was Made of Georgia Material.

THE DESIGN FINISHED AND APPROVED

Work on the Building Will Be Commenced Soon-Illinois Commission Open an Office in Chicago.

Illinois will be represented at Atlanta by a pretty building of Georgia pine. In point of appearance, it will not be outdone by any structure on the grounds. It will be colonial in style, fashioned after the old two-story residences in Illinois. It is not intended as an exhibit building, but will partake of the character of a clubroom, where Illinoisans can gather, meet each other, receive their mail, enjoy rest and social intercourse.

The plans for the building have been completed and in a few days the work of construction will begin. The location of the building has been fixed. It is to be in the group of state buildings near the government building and in the vicinity of the Plant system's building.

THE ILLINOIS STATE BUILING TO BE BUILT OF GEORGIA PINE.

submitted to Governor Altgeld and the commission and received their approval.

The structure will be 140x100 feet. It will not contain a single exhibit. Outside it keepers.

The interior of the building is roomy, comfortable, convenient-ly appointed and well arranged in every way. The Illinois commissioners made the uilding very large, expecting a large attendance of people from that state, owing to the great interest that has been awak-ened in our exposition in that state.

The building will be thrown open to all visitors, and Illinois will keep open house during the exposition. The great state will show that it is as hospitable as it is pro-

The Illinois commission is composed of George Schneider, Willis J. Abbott, A. S. Trude and Captain W. P. Halliday. The three first named reside in Chicago and are prominent citizens of that city. Captain Halliday resides at Cairo.

The commission has opened an office in Chicago, which is in charge of Secretary Willis J. Abbott, a prominent newspaper man connected with the editorial staff of The Daily Chronicle, and secretary of the commission. The office is at 166 Washington street, and while the commission has nothing to do with exhibits, it gladly furnishes all information concerning the ex-position that might be wanted.

HE OWNS VICIOUS ANIMALS.

The President of the Hagenbeck Are na Company in Atlanta.

Hoffheimer, portly, energetic and humored, who knows more about good humored, who knows more about lions, tigers, bears and other ferocious beasts than he does about most other subjects, arrived in Atlanta yesterday

Hoffheimer is president of the Hagenbeck Arena Company, whose big menagerie of live animals on the Midway at the Chicago fair attracted thousands of visitors, and he came to Atlanta to close up the contract with the exposition people and to give out the contract for the erecting of his building. He did both during the day and left for New York last night.

day and left for New York last night.

The Hagenbeck show is going to be one of the wonders of the exposition.

Yesterday Mr. Hoffheimer gave out a contract for a huge building, with a frontage of 150 feet on the Midway and with a seating capacity of 2,500 people. In the center is to be a huge cage forty feet square. In this the animals will be turned loose with their keepers and come of the most daring performances ever witnessed will be seen. The entire building will be completed in four weeks.

Mr. Hoffheimer returned to New York Mr. Hoffheimer returned to New York lasf night to prepare his animals for shipment to Atlahta. There will be several car loads of them. They are all trained to do wonderful tricks; some ride horses and all do the bidding of their masters. The great lion tamer, William Philadeiphia, made famous by the articles of Cleveland Moffett, will be here with his animals. "Moffett," said Mr. Hoffheimer yesterday. Mr. Hoffheimer is expecting a consignment of freshly-trained lions from Hamburg, Germany, tomorrow. They will be brought to Atlanta. Many of the best lions that were shown at Chicago will be seen here. Some of these have been retired.

'A lion gets a nasty temper when he gets old," said Mr. Hoffheimer, "and we have to dispose of him. We sell them to the zoos, where they are caged up and can do gold watch from the residence of Mr. G. R. DeSaussure, cashier of the Exchange bank. The negro is said to have entered the house and after obtaining the watch went to a Decatur street broker and pawned the time-piece for the pality sum of $1.25. He was bound over for the second time and it is very probable that he will get several years for his evil deeds.

Several weeks ago the negro was shot just as he was in the act of entering a house, and he now carries thirteen of the shots in his legs and breast. The negro is said to bear a very bad reputation and has given the pelice much trouble. It was with great difficulty that his whereabouts was ascertained yesterday, and the detectives were sompelled to search the entire city over before he could be found. He was placed in jail last night to await his trial.

The Tickets Will Be Sold Only at the Gates, and No One Will Be Admitted Free.

If you go out to the exposition grounds this morning you had best drop an extra quarter into your purse in addition to street car fare. Unless you take this necessary precaution you will be turned away, for the gates will be closed and gate keepers will ask for your tickets before you can pass through and view the sights. The gates were practically closed yesterday, but all who went out were not asked for tickets. This morning it will be different, and no one will be admitted unless a ticket or a pass is presented to the gatekeeper.

This action on the part of the exposition directors has been anticipated for several weeks, and the crowds took advan tage of the short time remaining before The design for the state building, as the closing of the gates by going out by the Chief Felder, of the ad mission department, is busily engaged on the work and will soon have the proof of the tickets, so that it may be laid before the executive committee. For the present temporary tickets will be used. They are already printed and in addition to the name of the exposition and the proverbial "admit one," appear the words, "Good only for the day stamped." This has been decided to be best, as many tickets may carried over, and it would be possible the tickets to be stolen or lost, in which case they would be used afterwards. According to the plan adopted, all this will be obviated, and if a ticket is not used on the day on which it is purchased it will be turned down by the keeper at the gates.

It will require the work of two ticket sellers and about four gatekeepers and at least a dozen men to guard the openings in the fence. This force of men will be ample for the present, but when the exposition opens it will take a small-sized army to sell the tickets and allow the visitors to pass.

TRILBY LAST NIGHT.

The Burlesque Well Received at the Lyceum Theater.
Atlanta had its first touch of "Trilby" last night in the buriesque at the Lyceum. It was put on between the second and third acts of "Mascot," and was original and laughable. "Mascot" was well sung and much bettered by many changes and specialties. "Trilby" will be given again tonight and "Mascot" will be sung.

FOUGHT THE UNKNOWN.

Mr. O. H. Jones Meets His Unknown Accuser and a Fight Resulted.

Mr. O. H. Jones, who, it will be remem bered, had a fight with an unknown man on South Pryor street last Tuesday, had another fight with the same man yester-day morning. The fight yesterday was the day morning. The light yesterday was the outcome of a publication in The Atlanta Looking Glass last Saturday. The unknown man was accused of being responsible for the publication, and when accost-ed and asked about it by Mr. Jones the two men engaged in a lively fight.

The identity of the man with whom Mr. Jones has nad two fights in the last week s a question that is causing Mr. Jones his friends considerable anxiety. He met the man on Loyd street yesterday morning, but during the fight with him failed to inquire of the man his name.

Yesterday morning Mr. Jones got off of a train at the Loyd street crossing, near a train at the Loyd street crossing, near the Markham house, and as he did so he saw the man with whom he had the diffi-culty on Pryor street last week. Catching up with the man, Mr. Jones asked him if he was responsible for the statements in The Looking Glass, and when the man denied that he gave the information Mr. Jones requested him to step inside of a stable and make the acknowledgment in the presence of witnesses. This the man refused to do, and when Mr. Jones took hold of him and started to pull the man inside the latter struck film. The two men then had a lively fight, in which Mr. Jones is said to have been the victor. After the difficulty the unknown man managed to get away from the crowd which had gathered and he could not be found by the police during the day.

Mr. W. O. Jones, a brother of Mr. O. H.

Jones, said last night that neither himself, nor his brother knew who the man was, but that the effort to locate him will be but that the effort to locate him will be continued. Mr. O. H. Number of Negroes.

WENTY-FIVE CENTS WILL BE CHARGED | TOTAL FINES OVER THREE YEARS

The Dive Raided Is Just Opposite the Police Station-They All Go to the

The police captured forty-nine negroes in raiding a dive on Decatur street yesterday. The gang was found in James Lynch's saloon on Decatur street, opposite the police station, and was a motley crowd of colored humanity.

The wholesale haul was made on accoun of the frequent brawls, fights and disorders of the dives, which have given the officers trouble lately. The place has been the rendezvous of a gang of worthless negroes who loaf about Decatur street, and the officers say that the gang assembles in the dive early in the morning and remains all day and most of the night. The day is passed in the worst kinds of dissipations, and at frequent intervals during the afternoon and night the officers are called to the place to quell disturbances. Saturday night the gang got so boisterous and wild that Cap-tain Jennings, of the evening watch, and two or three officers raided the place, but when they got inside the dive had assumed meeting. The proprietor of the dive was arrested by Captain Jennings, however, and was locked up for running a disorderly

Captured Forty-Nine Negroes

Yesterday morning Officers Powell Shepard, Grant, Estes and Wildauer decided to raid the dive, and they did so in the most successful manner, the officers quickly surrounding the exits of the place and capturing every inmate, forty-nine in number, male and female. The negroes were in a state of consternation. They were quietly lined up and marched to the station house. For an hour Station House Keeper Braselton had his hands full tak ing the names and effects of the darkies. The gang was marched in front of the sta house keeper in twos, and as they were searched they were quickly ushered

It Was an Unusual Speciacle. Vesterday afternoon forty-five of the ne groes were lined up in a double row in front of Acting Recorder Camp on charges of idding and loitering. It took fifteen minutes to separate the gaing from the crowd of prisoners in the station house, and when they were finally lined up in Fifth regiment style the sight was one never before witnessed in the courtroom, There have been large gangs of offenders of the kind, but according to the officers, the crowd that was arraigned when the court announced ready yesterday afternoon was the largest in the history of the Atlanta police department. In the crowd was every type of colored humanity that can be on Decatur street when in its most glorious aspect. Some of them were yellow, some were black, some almost white, and one of the young bucks had a reddish complexion They Were All Workers. A characterizing feature of the trial was the earnestness with which the prisoners swore concerning their own industry. Act-ing Recorder Camp said that according to the pleas of the defandants, they were the most industrious set of "niggers" in the state-in fact, he considered the gang so industrious that their services to the city chaingang were indispensable and he quick-ly sentenced the entire crowd to thirty days in the stockade. Was a Remarkable Raid.

The raid was a remarkable one aside from a numerical standpoint. If paid the fines imposed on the gang of negroes would bring the city the sum of $675. It was the high water mark of fines in the police court in any one day, and Mr. Camp has the distinction of breaking the record in sev-eral respects in connection with the case, The forty-five negroes before him were each fined $15 and costs. The amount stated does not include the costs. The costs of the case, if paid, would amount to $33.75. The total number of days' work that will be rendered the city by the gang is 1,350, or three years, eight months and fifteen days. Should the four other defendants in the same case yet to be tried receive the same sentences 120 days more of work will be added to the total. The fines of the four would amount to $60 and the costs to $3.

Was a Strategic Raid.

The police raided the dive at an hour un-usual in such cases. Heretofore the dives have always been raided at night, and that fact caused the police to lose many cases, the negroes setting up the plea that they had just quit work at night and entered the place to get something to eat. Their contention on the ground that they were not idlers got many of them out of trouble in the past, and on Captain Jennings's suggestion the raid yesterday was made in the morning to defeat a plea that the idlers worked, they having no excuse to offer for being gathered in the dive bright and early on Monday morning.

A Curious Assortment of Wenpons. It was a wonderful lot of effects that was taken from the negroes. They had everything on their persons from a pen knife to a butcher knife and from a rock to the biggest kind of a gun. All of the negroes had some kind of a weapon.

The stockade wagon was occupied until a late hour last night hauling out the un-fortunates from the station house. In addition to the forty-five sentenced at one time, Acting Recorder Camp sentenced twenty other offenders yesterday, making a total of sixty-five new arrivals at the stockade last night. The police have de-termined to break up the gangs of idlers and loafers around the dives in the city, and several other raids are likely to be Called in City Court. TAN SHOES, THEIR RELATION TO MORALS

An Interesting Discussion Before Judge Westmoreland Yesterday - Myers Hearing To Come This Week.

The wheels of the city court were set in motion again yesterday and before the day was done Judge Westmoreland had disposed of twenty-eight cases.

Serious attention and much time was given to what is known as "The Lightning Corner Gang," an organization of young darkies whose cunning in crime perplexed the police officers and - caused to wonder. For months this unmolested, appropriated other gang. people's property and many minor offenses under cover of night. It was their wont to meet in a certain locality at midnight. Here, with Anderson Williams, a diminutive genius with a face composed chiefly of mouth and eyes, at their head, plans for the night would be arranged.

Separating about midnight this tribe would scatter and each man begin work in the territory assigned to him by the

Each member did work in special lines and was respected as to the character of this work, consequently Fatty Jones, a cosmopolite who walked all the way from Macon to Atlanta and whose duty it was to look after the chicken roosts of Peach tree, received respect due his station from his subordinates. Fatty's education in the line of fowl snatching was beyond the ordinary. He could yank a hen from the roost without a squall or a cackle and he confessed his doings yesterday with feeling pride.

Ed Jones, Harrison Johnson, Will Amy and Jim Snead were all leutenants. All were ordered to the gang for lengthy terms when their cases had been heard

"Boss, I knowed dem dar yaller shows wuz gwine ter git me in more trouble then I'se seed yit. Dat's what, boss; an' dat de same what I told my ole ooman. I hain't neber seed any honest man wid dem dar white fixins about his foots. Dey sho mean trouble, an' heaps uv it."

His discussion upon tan shoes and their effect upon the moral side of a man's nature was listened to and seemingly accepted by Judge Westmoreland, who sen-tenced him to six months in the chaingang.

To Call the Myers Case. Much interest centers on the hearing of the Myers case which will be called before Judge Hart next Friday at Union Point. At that time the hearing of the motion for the new trial will be brought up, and in the light of recent developments it is safe to say that the legal battle there will cause the mercury to rise.

The affidavits affecting the jurors will be placed in evidence by the defense. These, however, are not considered of so much importance as the paper relative to the tracks and Charley Jones. It is upon this mainly that the defense bases its hope for another hearing. Jones in his affidavits avers that the detectives took his shoes while he was a prisoner and fitted them in the tracks about the scene of the murder in Westwood park.
Colonel Glenn, Solicitor Hill, Mr. W. T.
Moyers and other attorneys interested in the case will be at Union Point Friday.

Judge Calhoun Busy. Judge W. L. Calhoun convened the court of ordinary yesterday morning and was rushed through the day naming administrators and probating various wills. It was the regular day for paying off pensions to the veterans of the federal army and his office was crowded.

The Sheriff Away. Sheriff Barnes gets off the last of this week to North Carolina for a stay of some days. His family left for that place yesterday.

The Resolution Providing for Two, Sessions a Day in the Schools Goes.

ADOPTION UNANIMOUS RECIVED

Captain Hendrix Interviewed-No Money an Overflow Building-The Resolution Given in Full

The resolution adopted at the last meet ing of the board of education providing for two sessions a day in the lower grades of the public schools is likely to remain unaltered.

No action was taken by the board until the proposition had been discussed in all its bearings and having considered the matter maturely, they intend to give it no further consideration.

Captain J. C. Hendrix, who supported the resolution, states that no better provision could possibly be made under the circumstances and that while it seems to operate as a hardship upon some of the teachers it is more so in appearance than it is in reality. it is in reality.

"I am very sorry, for my part," said Captain Hendrix, "that so much has been said in the newspapers concerning the ac-tion of the board, as if a terrible mistake had been made by that body. The resoluhad been made by that body. The resolu-tion was carefully considered and, after ful-discussion was adopted without a dissent-ing vote. It will entail additional work upon several of the teachers, but for this upon several of the teachers, but for this they will receive extra compensation. No member of the board entertains a deeper regard for the welfare of the teachers than I do and I am the last mar to impose a burden upon them unnecessarily. But nothing else can be done. It is out of the question to put up an overflow building and the only solution to the difficulty is to hold two sessions a day in the lower

Captain Hendrix went on to say that in Captain Hendrix went on to say that in the colleges and seminaries of the country the teachers were required to teach as many as eight hours a day without receiving better salaries than the teachers in the public schools. In consideration of the extra pay and the scarcity of funds, making it impossible at this time to put up an overflow building, he saw no reason why the teachers should complain and henced after hearing the reasons of the hoped, after hearing the reasons of the board, they would be induced to view the matter differently.

The action of the board in regard to holding double sessions in the lower grades of the public schools was taken at a spe-cial meeting called for that purpose a few

ing double sessions in the lower grades of the public schools was taken at a special meeting called for that purpose a few days ago. In order to give the readers of The Constitution a precise insight into the board's action a copy of the resolutions has been secured. The following is the resolution as adopted by the board last Thursday afternoon:

"The joint committee to whom was referred the question of making provision for the children wno would be unable to gain admittance into the public school of Atianta (as now organized) for want of room, beg leave to report.

"They have given the question due consideration and are satisfied that a very large number of pupils will be excluded if additional facilities are not provided. And seeing no way to build additional school rooms in these times of financial depression, and knowing that accommodation should be made for all the children of our citizens alike and realizing that the board of education should lead in the inauguration of every reform possible so as' to give the largest educational advantages for the least money, and uniting in the opinion that the first, second, third and fourth grades be taught in two classes, one class from $2.30 o'clock a. m. to 12 m., the other from 12:30 to 4 p. m.

"The changes, in the opinion of your committee, will very materially reduce the size of the classes, thereby enabling the teachers to do more thorough work and at the same time make room for those who otherwise would be kept out of our schools. For the primary teachers teaching these two classes for the additional time we recommend an increase in their salaries of 15 per cent, but this increase to apply to none not teaching the teachers to do more thorough work and at the same time make room for those who otherwise would be kept out of our schools. For the primary teachers in their salaries of 15 per cent, but this increase to apply to none not teaching the teachers and the committee on buildings and grounds. It was reported after conferring with the mayor and members of

and grounds. It was reported after con-ferring with the mayor and members of the city council and was adopted by the board unantmously.

The crowded condition of the schools will not be such as to entail double duty on all the teachers in the lower grades. Only a few of the grades will be over-crowded. Extra work will be required of these teachers, but from the present outlook the situation is without a remedy.

DID THEIR WORK WELL.

Judge Hopkins Has a Good Word for the Codiflers. John L. Hopkins was speaking yesterday of the work of the codifiers and of the committee of the legislature which was appointed to revise, or rather to in-spect, the work of the eminent gentlemen who have been revising the code "I hope to see the day," said he, "when he code shall have come from the printers and shall be got up in artistic, attrac-tive style as such a work should be prepared. The committee has its next meeting on the 26th, at which time some additional matters will be submitted to it. You cannot praise too highly the work of the legislative committee which has had the supervision of the work of the codifiers. I have never seen a similar body go at its work more earnestly and stick to it more faithfully. The codifiers have been highly pleased at finding this disposition on the part of the committee, for of course if there are any mistakes in our work ware most anxious to know it. Yes, you can not say too much for the committee."

Chief of Construction.

G. W. ADAIR, AUCTIONEER Administrator's Sale of Eight Beautiful Lot son Glenn, Reed and Martin Streets.

Streets.

Before the courthouse door on Tuesday, August 6th, at 11 o'clock sharp, I will sell eight of the pretiest lots in south Atlanta, fronting on Glenn street, between Reed and Martin streets. These lots are only one block from Georgia avenue, are convenient to Capitol avenue, and are very near the paved street; gas, water and other conveniences. They are beautifully shaded, level, and are just right to build on. These lots have been in great demand for a long time, but the owner would never sell them. He is now dead and the administrator 4s obliged to sell in order to wind up the estate. I respectfully and earnestly urge every one who is seeking a nice vacant lot to examine this property and attend the sale. Every lot will be sold on its merit and without any by-bidding or shinanigan; this will be an old-fashioned, old-time, honest sale. The terms are easy, one-third cash, the balance in six and twelve months at 8 per cent interest.

cash, the balance in six and twelve months at 8 per cent interest.

At the same time and place I will sell 18 and 63-100 shares of stock in the Central Bank Block Association. Terms cash.

FORMWALT STREET LOT

I will sell before the courthouse door Tue I will sell before the courthouse door Tues-Tuesday, August 6th, at 11 o'clock, a beauti-ful lot on the east side of Formwalt street, beginning 150 feet south of Crumley street. This lot is very desirable, close in, and is only one block from the Pryor street elec-tric car line, vitrified brick, etc. It is sur-rounded by beautiful homes, and is one of the most delightful locations in Atlanta. It will be sold at administrator's sale for just what it will bring for cash, and those who are seeking nice lots upon which to build are urged to examine this one and attend the sale.
